ELEGATES PLEASED WITH RECEPTION BY VICTORIA CITIZENS

Women's Benefit Association Is Enraptured By Beauties of City; Remarkable Tour Embraces Whole Pacific Coast.

Declaring themselves overwhelmed with the charms of the city and its surroundings and the courtesies which have been extended to them since their arrival here yesterday, the visiting delegates of the Women's Benefit Association this morning settled down to a brief business session at the Empress Hotel.

Members of the organization to a Times representative stated that the realization of their visit to Victoria had exceeded their rosiest anticipations. From the moment when a bevy of business men and women met them at the boat to welcome them with courtesies, followed by a delightful trip in automobiles kindly loaned by the Premier, Attorney-General, civic officials and private citizens, the delegates unanimously decided that Victoria's hospitality eclipsed that of any other city touched in their long trip. Another much appreciated note of attention was sounded by the bouquets of flowers from local gardens which greeted the delegates on reaching their respective rooms in the hotels. This delightful little souvenir of welcome being the work of the local Reviews of the Association.

The official welcome to the city was given by Mayor Hayward at this morning session. The Mayor in his brief address touched upon the international aspect of the visit and warmly greeted the party to Victoria and to Canada. Mrs. Jesse K. Fager, of Port Huron, Mich., and Miss Bina West made gracious responses on behalf of the W. B. A. As a pretty tribute, the gathering sang "The Maple Leaf" before the Mayor's departure. Private business of the Order occupied most of the session, the assembly going into a committee of the whole to consider the laws of the Association.

This afternoon will be given over to sight-seeing and the day will close with a reception this evening for Miss Bina M. West at the Empress Hotel ballroom, commencing at 8 p. m.

An Accident
About 175 delegates are in the city from various points. They are delighted with Victoria, with the beautiful scenery and a delightful reception at "Benvenuto," to which they were driven immediately on arrival yesterday afternoon.

Officers of the association express their cordial thanks for the welcome accorded by Victoria citizens in providing cars for the drive to the Butchart gardens.

An unfortunate accident occurred to mar the pleasure of the afternoon when Mrs. Hart, an elderly visitor from Texas, had the misfortune to slip into the swimming bath at "Benvenuto" and fracture her arm. An ambulance was quickly on the scene and she was conveyed to the Provincial Jubilee Hospital. Inquiries this morning elicited the information that she is resting easily although suffering from shock and minor bruises in addition to the injury to her arm.

Street Pageant
Supreme officers are looking forward to the last production of the pageant illustrative of the work of the order which will be given in Vancouver on Tuesday. The three presentations which have already been given in the three Pacific Coast states have attracted large crowds and have been thoroughly enjoyed.

The Tour
This tour is regarded by railway officials who are anxious to handle large parties as one of the most successful in Western America. About 10,000 women were brought to Los Angeles from every state in the Union where a successful pageant was carried through with 2,000 participants. This pageant portrayed the association in its various fields of activity. From there the party went to San Francisco for a few days' session. Meetings were then held at Portland and Seattle, where state pageants were given.

The Supreme Review party left Chicago on May 18 on the Santa Fe line. That day was Miss West's birthday, and the Illinois delegation gave her a dinner party, at which there were 500 covers. The presents included a diamond and platinum bracelet. In Kansas City the party was met by the Chamber of Commerce representatives, where the party was taken for a drive, and a beautiful basket representative of the Kansas state products was presented. At Colorado Springs a party was entertained, and again at the Grand Canyon. At Albuquerque, N. M., the party was also welcomed, and a visit paid to an Indian village.

Mayor Cryer opened the convention with an address at Los Angeles, including a trip up Mt. Lowe, to the Yosemite Park en route to San Francisco. At the Golden Gate there was a wonderful reception, in keeping with the customary hospitality of that community. Coyne met the delegation at Seattle, and Mayor Brown, of Seattle, made an address at the opening of the pageant.

Business Woman Wins Success In Actuarial Field: Miss Frances D. Partridge

MISS PARTRIDGE

Is Supreme Record Keeper of the Women's Benefit Association. She is well known throughout the fraternal world, and is a practical expert actuary. For 12 years she has had the important position of being custodian of $9,000,000 of bonds and their investment. She resides at Port Huron, Michigan.

A PROGRESSIVE CONVENTION

The convention is unique in that it has been held on the progressive plan, with sessions in six Pacific Coast cities, from Los Angeles to Vancouver. This plan was adopted through Miss Bina West's belief in travel as a medium of education. She has herself travelled extensively in America, and Europe, and in this trip has led her party on a complete tour of the western states.

PREMIER MASSEY TO GO TO LONDON

Will Attend the Empire Conference in Opening Speech of New Zealand Parliament

Wellington, N. Z., June 15.—(Canadian Press Cable via Reuter's)—In the Speech from the Throne read by the Governor-General, Viscount Jellicoe, at the opening of the New Zealand Parliament yesterday, it was asserted that only the gravest emergency could excuse the absence of Premier Massey from the country, but the divergence in the interests and policies of the various self-governing countries of the Empire had as in the past, created difficulties which could be disposed of only by a personal exchange of views at meetings between the Premiers. This was equivalent to an announcement that the Premier will attend the Imperial Conference in London in October.

Dealing with domestic matters, the Speech announced the continuance of the policy of strictest economy and the re-introduction during the session in modified form of the dairy produce export bill, which proposes to allow dairy producers to establish an organization similar to that of the meat producers to control the handling, distribution and marketing of the country's entire supply.

CABINET CRISIS DELAYING REPLY

New Belgian Government to Be Consulted On Ruhr Question

Britain Awaits Franco-Belgian Declaration

Paris, June 15.—The Belgian Cabinet crisis will interrupt for a few days the exchanges of views among the chancelleries regarding the Allied reply to the latest German reparations memorandum. Meanwhile the French Government is giving its attention to the British memorandum asking further information on the Franco-Belgian attitude. As soon as the Belgian Ministry is reconstituted, Premier Poincare will confer with the new Belgian Premier regarding the British communication before replying to it.

Cordial Relations
London, June 15.—Unofficial reports dealing with the latest phase of the Franco-British communications regarding the Ruhr, reparations agree, for the most part, that complete cordiality has been maintained and that the memorandum which the London Government sent to Paris on Wednesday was received by France in a most friendly spirit.

Although no authoritative account of the memorandum is available, it is understood to have asked further information on the Franco-Belgian attitude toward Germany's passive resistance, the military occupation of the Ruhr, a moratorium for Germany and kindred subjects. The chief purpose of the note, it is said, was to discover whether a common Allied policy looking toward a general settlement is possible.

X-RAYS SAVED INFANT'S LIFE

New York, June 15.—Using X-Rays to wither the thymus gland of a three-day-old baby who faced death because of inability to breathe, Dr. Mary Halton saved the infant's life after artificial respiration had been resorted to for twenty-four hours, it became known to-day. The thymus gland is a mysterious organ found only in infants, the purpose of which has long puzzled physicians.

PANTHER AWAKES FROM CHLOROFORM WOUNDING HUNTER

Island Woodsman, Trying to Capture Cougar Alive, Badly Scratched

Big Cat Finally Succumbs From Overdose of Drug

Nanaimo, June 15.—James Craig, veteran panther hunter of Craig's Crossing, attempted to capture a panther alive on Wednesday. He got the panther, but not alive, and not before both he and his son had felt the claws of the big cat.

Craig had received a request from Vancouver for a live panther to replace one in Stanley Park which was killed a few days ago with an overdose of chloroform while a picture was being filmed.

Craig's dog tamed the panther, and using a long pole with a rag on the end, frequently soaked in chloroform, it was dazed to such an extent that a rope was placed around his neck and it was jerked to the ground. The fall awakened the animal and he showed fight, fixing one huge claw in Craig's right arm.

Duncan Craig rushed to the assistance of his father, and the beast severely scratched him, tearing off one of his trousers. The panther was finally snubbed close to a stump and more chloroform administered.

This time the men took no chances but put the victim to sleep so thoroughly that he did not wake up.

TWO LIVES REPORTED LOST WHEN VILLAGES IN QUEBEC BURNED

Quebec, June 15.—The villages of Sully and Les Etroits, in Temiscouata County, have been completely destroyed by forest fires and unconfirmed reports have it that two lives were lost. Even the churches of these villages and some seventy-five residences are nothing but a mass of ruins and the fire is still spreading.

An Edmundston express train which reached here last evening carried a number of those who had been able to make their escape. They report that the fire spread so rapidly that many of the residents were not able to save their clothing.

The story told by the trainmen who passed through the devastated region is one of horror. At one time the express train had great difficulty in continuing its journey as the smoke partly prevented the operation of the engine. However, after a delay of ten hours the train arrived last evening. On board were some fifty young settlers who had started to clear the land in that region a few months ago and were obliged to return into town with their wives and families.

The fire is said to have spread extremely rapidly, breaking into the two villages after it had been circling the nearby district for some time.

There has been no rain in Temiscouata County and conditions are still bad to-day. Fires have broken out over an area of 250 acres in the townships of Taton and Bodreau.

In New Brunswick
Fredericton, N. B., June 15.—With fully 250 square miles of timberland burned over by the forest fires which are raging in northern New Brunswick, the conflagration has reached proportions beyond any similar disaster in the history of this province since the great Miramichi fire in 1825, and it is feared that the losses before the present fires are extinguished will exceed all records.

Some of the greatest fires have not entirely beyond control, so that now the efforts of the fire fighters are being concentrated upon putting down the smaller fires. There have been no fatalities.

BULGARIAN OVERTURN LEADS TO DEATH OF FORMER CABINET HEAD

Stamboulsky Was Captured By Troops of New Sofia Administration and Killed When Fusillade Was Fired During Attack on Motor Car By Peasants.

London, June 15.—The Bulgarian semi-official agency here this afternoon announced the death of former Premier Stamboulsky and added that he was killed during a fusillade after a party of armed peasants had attacked the car in which he was passing through the village of Slavovitz.

The agency statement read: "Stamboulsky was captured at 7 o'clock Thursday morning at the village of Golak by a party of troops. Stamboulsky addressed the commander of the troops, saying he wished to surrender. He was taken in a motor car to Tatar Bazardjik, where a crowd hooted him and wanted to lynch him.

"In order to avoid trouble, Stamboulsky was again removed, and while he was being taken through the village of Slavovitz a party of armed peasants attacked the car. Orders were immediately given for his arrest and transfer to Sofia under a strong escort.

"In the course of the pursuit a fusillade occurred and Stamboulsky was killed. "The Government deeply regrets what has happened, and has given orders for a searching inquiry."

Quick Developments
Sofia, June 15.—Former Premier Stamboulsky, of Bulgaria, was killed while trying to escape.

The end of the peasant leader's career follows a series of dramatic developments beginning with the overthrow of his Government in the early hours of last Saturday and the formation of a coalition government including all the opposition parties with the exception of the Communists.

Disguised Himself
As soon as Stamboulsky became aware of the successful coup d'etat he fled toward the mountains of Central Bulgaria, shaving off his moustache and disguising himself as an army chauffeur. He was deserted by most of his followers, only four being with him when he arrived at Pirdot on his way to Slavovitz. The pursuing troops of the new Government overtook the party at Pirdot, but Stamboulsky escaped in the forest during the fighting, in which his four followers were overcome.

He could no longer elude the large forces seeking him, however, and he was captured yesterday at Molavi, a village near Slavovitz.

A Report
London, June 15.—A Sofia dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph asserts that former Premier Stamboulsky tried to force King Boris to abdicate in his favor so he could become King of Bulgaria himself.

At the same time a cheque for $122,448.38 was sent to Vancouver as that city's share.

Under the amendment to the liquor act last session of the Legislature, two-sevenths of what Victoria and the other cities receive must go for school purposes.

Of the total net liquor profits 50 per cent is placed in the consolidated revenue of the Provincial Government for general development of the Province.

The remaining 15 per cent is distributed to the hospitals for incurables and other charitable institutions.

PLAN CAMPAIGN FOR OLYMPIC TOURISTS

An advertising campaign to bring tourists here from the Olympic Peninsula on the new Port Angeles ferry will be started by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau immediately. Plans for this campaign were mapped out at a luncheon meeting of Bureau directors to-day.

The Bureau laid plans to-day for a luncheon to the Mayor of Mount Vernon, Washington, and county officials will be held during the first week in July, coming here on the Anacortes ferry.

A committee to deal with matters pertaining to the advancement of the Victoria products among the members of the city and surrounding districts, was formed. This consisted of the following members of the group: J. A. Griffith, A. S. Denny, Howard Stevenson, J. B. Clearburn, and H. J. Pendergast. These men will consider the best means whereby the plans of the manufacturers and the group may be fostered.

EMPLOYERS SEEK CUT IN MINIMUM WAGES FOR GIRLS

Board to Hold Conference to Hear Reasons for Revision Demand

Minimum wage of $14 a week for girls in industry in B. C. is to come up before a conference under the Minimum Wage Board, for reconsideration and revision, if found advisable, Attorney-General Manson announced to-day.

The conference will be opened in Vancouver on July 17, according to arrangements made by J. D. McEwen, Deputy Minister of Labor, and Chairman of the Minimum Wage Board.

A petition in favor of reconsideration has reached the Board from manufacturing employers affected by the order. Their case for a "re-adjustment," it is understood, rests mainly upon the contention that the cost of living, upon which it was based, has fallen since the order fixing the minimum wages in effect in September, 1919.

The present legal minimum wage in the manufacturing industry, for an experienced female worker eight hours or over, is $14 a week. A lower wage is permitted to be paid for inexperienced help, or for girl workers in a factory under 18 years of age, but the proportion of such workers in a factory or workshop is limited. The conference will review the rates of pay both for experienced and inexperienced help, and will have it in its power to recommend either that the minimum wage shall be raised, or reduced, or maintained at its present level.

The Minimum Wage Board, on receipt of such recommendation, is empowered either to accept or reject it, and if any changes are considered necessary they will be embodied in a new order to be issued by the Board.

It is laid down in the act that a conference held for the purpose of recommending or reviewing an order by the Board shall consist of an equal number of representatives of employers, employees, and the general public, the last named representatives being disinterested persons not directly affected by any decision to be taken. At former conferences of this kind the representatives of each group have usually acted, or acted in all. The conference will be presided over by a member of the Board, and will probably be held in the Court House, Vancouver. Evidence will be taken, and if thought advisable, witnesses may be subpoenaed. Officials of the Board are now engaged in the preparation of data regarding the cost of living, and this will be submitted to the conference. This will permit of a recommendation being made as to the minimum wage adequate to supply the cost of living for a female worker engaged in the manufacturing industry.

Another matter now under the consideration of the Board is the selection of the members of the conference. The aim is to bring together as representative a committee of men and women as possible, who will be able, if occasion arises, to give an impartial hearing to conflicting claims.

There are altogether about 1,500 women and girls in the Province whose wages and working hours are affected by the Manufacturing Order now about to be reviewed.

INDUSTRIAL MEN WANT CO-OPERATION

Believe Manufacturers Should Discuss Plans for Local Products Campaign

The Industrial Group of the Chamber of Commerce to-day decided that the best action to be taken for the benefit of the local manufacturers and householders of the city a list of Victoria made goods, that they might be enabled to purchase these in preference to those of other provinces.

The Industrial Group of the Chamber of Commerce, with acclamation, it was suggested by J. W. Hudson that the list of these products be compiled and placed in an attractive booklet, together with some useful recipes and general information which the householders would find invaluable. This idea was heartily supported.

A committee to deal with matters pertaining to the advancement of the Victoria products among the members of the city and surrounding districts, was formed. This consisted of the following members of the group: J. A. Griffith, A. S. Denny, Howard Stevenson, J. B. Clearburn, and H. J. Pendergast. These men will consider the best means whereby the plans of the manufacturers and the group may be fostered.

It was brought to the notice of the members of the group present, that the manufacturers had not expressed themselves one way or another as to the proceedings which the Industrial Group was entering upon. It was thought best that the members of the group, or at least the recently formed committee, meet the manufacturers some evening in the near future and make decisions upon the mode of proceeding.

The general consensus of the group was that the manufacturers should do more advertising in the city and surrounding districts. In this way the householders would be made to realize the fact that Victoria was offering goods that were in many cases cheaper than what they could get from outside manufacturers, and which were more often inferior than anything that was manufactured elsewhere and which Victoria retailers stocked. In this way it was found that matters rested with considerable weight upon the shoulders of the manufacturer. Action should be taken immediately between the Industrial Group and the manufacturers of the city, it was decided.

The idea of a "Made-in-Victoria Week" was suggested to the meeting. This was thought to be a worthy plan. The suggestion was that the merchants of the city put Victoria manufactures in one part of the store, and put in charge such clerks as were capable of impressing the buyers of their value, and then, for one week or more, a campaign for the sale of these goods would be followed out. In this way people would have the opportunity of sampling the Victoria products.

W. J. Edie pointed out that the reasons why Victoria could not quote prices as low as the men of the United States were many. In the first place he stated that sugar and tins, also property, were cheaper in the United States than in this country, and the jam manufacturing line on the other side of the line.

As a result of the meeting immediate action will be taken in planning, with the co-operation of the manufacturers, as to what steps will be taken in the future. Further business will be arranged by the committee chosen to-day. This has full control of the matter, and will report to the Group next week.

BONAR LAW IS NOW SERIOUSLY ILL

Change for Worse in His Condition Reported

Still Able to Motor to His Physician's Office

London, June 15.—The condition of Rt. Hon. Andrew Bonar Law, which seemed to have improved after his resignation from the premiership, is not so favorable, according to reports circulated among his friends in Parliament. It is believed Mr. Bonar Law has grown worse during the past few days and that he is now seriously ill.

A contributor to The Liverpool Post, whose information regarding London affairs always seems authoritative, writes regarding the ex-Prime Minister: "It is with deep regret I hear that before long an operation may be performed on the throat of Mr. Law. He is now back in London, very cheerful, very peaceful, and apparently reconciled to the inevitable existence he is compelled to lead—one of life's quiet heresies. He follows all political developments with keen interest. He sees only his closest friends, but he plays many rubbers of bridge."

Mr. Bonar Law is still able to motor to his doctor's for consultation.

NINE BODIES WERE THROWN OVERBOARD

Chinese and Crew Fought On Schooner Near New York

Story of End of Chinese Smuggling Cruise Told

New York, June 15.—A story of horror on the sea almost within sight of the Sandy Hook rum fleet's rendezvous reminiscent of the days of buccaneering on the Spanish Main has been drawn piecemeal from fifteen Chinese survivors of the man-smuggling schooner Mary Beatrice, picked up adrift Wednesday night at the entrance to the harbor.

They unfolded a story of a hand-to-hand encounter between twenty Chinese passengers and the crew of four. In the fight the crew and five Chinese were slaughtered and thrown overboard after the unidentified captain had deserted the craft with $5,000 passage money.

When their story was concluded the authorities were as mystified as they were when the little schooner slipped into the harbor with her strange passengers.

The British consulate communicated with the U. S. consular authorities, the port from which the Chinese sailed they had last sailed, in an effort to trace the ownership of the craft and her captain's identity.

Captain Disappeared.—The stories of the fifteen survivors pieced together indicated that the schooner had arrived off the coast about June 6, and stood off for several days awaiting launches to smuggle them ashore. Provisions and drinking water ran short and when the mysterious captain, to whom each had paid $250, quit the ship and was not seen since. The suspicions of the Chinese were aggravated when the mate demanded an additional $250. Two white men and two negroes comprised the crew. Resistance to the demand for more money was said to have resulted in a general battle at dusk Tuesday, in which every kind of being brought into play.

Defended Themselves.—Interpreters gathered from accounts given by the excited Chinese that the first attack was made on one of their number. Then they joined in the struggle for self-preservation, using knives, axes, razors, marlin spikes or anything else that could be used as a weapon.

The outnumbered crew was overwhelmed and killed and the bodies, with the bodies of five of their opponents who had fallen in the fray, were cast into the sea.

The mystery was intensified by the absence of the papers and navigating instruments.

Investigation.—The Fifteen Chinese will be taken before officials of the Chinese bureau of immigration to-day.

If it is found the schooner is British, it is said the Chinese will be turned over to the British Government, and if the craft is of American registry, the federal authorities probably will prosecute the fifteen men for the killing of the crew.

At the meeting of the Industrial Group of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce to-day the members expressed their satisfaction with the drinks of shandy, hop ale and ginger beer which were supplied by the Union Wholesalers Limited, and which were manufactured in Victoria. The members also expressed a hope that they would shortly be able to sample "Ka-Zu" at one of their luncheons.

ought that it never woke up. Craig, however, to-day collected a forty dollar bounty on this 131st panther killed within the past twenty-eight years.

Brute Devours Chicken.—C. R. Mackenzie first saw the cougar at his ranch near Parkville. Hearing a noise amongst the poultry just outside the kitchen window, observed a large cougar leaping on to a chicken, which it devoured. Mr. Mackenzie not having dogs, got in touch with Jim Craig, who came down at once with his assistants and in a short time succeeded in freeing the brute. He then decided to try and capture it alive. The cougar was up a large cedar tree, but with the aid of a ladder and pole he tried to climb it, but without success, the cougar climbing to the top.

It was then decided to fell the tree, as the tree fell the brute jumped and made off, hotly pursued by the dogs, which treed it again. Craig then attempted to put a wire snare over the cougar's head, attached to a long rope. This was accomplished, and the struggling brute was hauled down. Then for a while things became lively, until the animal was eventually snubbed up to a tree. In attempting to hog-tie it Craig was attacked, receiving a nasty gash in the forearm. His son, coming to his rescue, was seized by the leg. However, with the assistance of Mr. Mackenzie Mr. Moffett the brute was subdued and chloroformed, and was then securely tied.

Too Much Chloroform.—It was now decided to crate it, but by the time the crate was prepared the animal had come to, and began to show fight again, and in attempting to subdue it with more chloroform Mr. Craig unfortunately gave it too much, and the animal succumbed, much to the disappointment of all present. It was by then 1 p. m., and during the whole performance the scene was witnessed by Mrs. Mackenzie and the Misses Smith, of Vancouver, who at times rendered valuable assistance.

SENATE DEBATES B. C. LIQUOR BILL

Measure Now in Committee
Stage in Ottawa

Senator J. D. Taylor Declared
His Opposition

Ottawa, June 15.—The bill to amend the Canada Temperance Act to restrict to the Provincial Governments the franchise of liquor control laws the right to import liquor was given second reading in the Senate yesterday afternoon, and sent to committee.

Criticism was voiced by Senator J. D. Taylor, of New Westminster, during the discussion.

Senator Taylor declared the real origin of the bill was in Victoria.

and not in the House of Commons, and that the bill was in contravention of the constitution as it interfered with inter-provincial and international trade.

The Government of British Columbia had promised to supply liquor, and stamp out bootlegging, but investigation had shown that liquor of the vilest kind was sold at exorbitant prices, he said. It had been shown that export licenses could not be secured without substantial "blackmail" for the party friends of the Government, he said. The present bill substituted one class of bootlegger for another.

Senator Taylor claimed the proposed measure would prevent ships entering British Columbia ports carrying liquor, and this would give the Government control of the liquor trade with foreign ships.

The object of the Government, said Senator Taylor, was to create a distillery monopoly in British Columbia with a trade of $10,000,000 a year. No one in British Columbia wanted it, but the Liberal party, and they for political purposes. There should be no change made, Senator Taylor declared.

Senator A. E. Plante, of Nanaimo, opposed the measure. Sir George Foster and Senator Dandurand supported it.

PRINCE OF WALES IS VOTED PREMIER DANCER OF WORLD

New York, June 15.—The Prince of Wales has had an unexpected honor thrust upon him by a United States organization. He has been voted "the premier dancer of the world" by the National Institute for Social Dancing, which announced to-day it had sent him a number of new steps, one named in his honor.

Addressing the popular British Prince, the institute, through its secretary, said: "It is our unanimous vote that Your Royal Highness deserves first place among the dancers of the world, by reason of which position we find it only befitting that Your Royal Highness be the first to learn the steps."

MAN'S DEATH WAS CAUSED BY HORSE

Eugene, Ore., June 15.—Fred Snell, fifty, of Eugene, was killed yesterday afternoon when an automobile in which he was riding plunged down an embankment near Mapleton, in the western part of Lane County. Snell was riding with a number of other men who had been working on a county road when a horse in front of the car became frightened and backing into the car, pushed it off the grade. The other men were not injured.

THREE KILLED IN AUTO-TRAIN SMASH

Buffalo, N.Y., June 15.—Three persons were killed and two probably fatally injured last night, when an automobile was hit by an eastbound freight train at a grade crossing near Athol Springs. The automobile crashed through a guard gate directly in the path of the train.

FIGHT AGAINST TUBERCULOSIS

Edmonton, June 15.—The executive of the Canadian Tuberculosis Association met Wednesday night and approved of three major activities being undertaken immediately. First, the offer of a grant by the association to each of the provinces of $5,000 for each traveling chest diagnosis of three years' receiving a salary of $2,500 annually and his traveling expenses; second, the arrangement for a unit for research for a period of ten years to include an expert, an assistant and equipment and maintenance of a laboratory. A portion of the cost amounting to $5,000 annually is to be found from private sources by the association; third, the completion of arrangements for a five-year health and anti-tuberculosis demonstration in a city of 25,000 people at an annual cost of $31,500, of which $25,000 annually has already been secured. The executive went on record as favoring the holding of the next annual meeting in Ottawa, in April, 1924.

HOUSE APPROVED BUDGET CHANGES

Discussion Later

Fielding Said Majority in Canada Favor Reciprocity

Ottawa, June 15.—The budget resolutions, amended in some particulars and with the exception of the sales tax amendments which were left for further consideration, were adopted by the Commons last night.

The amendments include a change in the British preference reduction provisions allowing transshipment at a British possession under direct bills of lading, a change in the reciprocity conditions and changes in the stamp tax resolution. The latter was amended to limit the reduction of the maximum tax from $2 to $1 to cheques, etc., but denying the reduction to promissory notes and bank overdrafts.

Another resolution, effective on October 1, prohibits the use of postage stamps for payment of revenue charges.

Several amendments were submitted by private members during the debate and all were rejected.

Reciprocity Offer.
The reciprocity with the United States passed with an amendment. As the reciprocity resolution was originally submitted, if the President of the United States were to reduce duties on certain specified items, the Dominion Government was empowered to act similarly.

Under the amendment it is made clear that the items on which Canada will grant reductions must be the same as those on which duties are reduced by the United States.

Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, Opposition leader, charged that items cited in the reciprocity resolution showed the "hollowness" of the offer.

Would Be Welcomed.
Hon. W. S. Fielding, Minister of Finance, declared that "if we had the opportunity to get the 1911 agreement again, three-quarters of the country would be rejoiced to have it."

"The day might come when there would be an election on the issue and time would tell the result."

Answering a remark by Mr. Meighen, Mr. Fielding stated he favored the closest trade relations with the United States.

"The closest trade relations with the United States means no tariff at all," retorted Mr. Meighen. "If the Minister means what he says, he wants no tariff with the United States."

"I never said there should be no tariff between Canada and the United States," said Mr. Fielding.

Mr. Meighen said the expression "closest possible relations" obviously meant no tariff.

W. C. Good, Progressive, Brant, Ont., declared that "if we do not have commercial union with the United States in a reasonable time, I do not think we shall be able to preserve confederation."

There might be political union with the United States, instead, although Mr. Good added, he did not wish to see that.

He explained later that by commercial union, he meant the closest possible trade relations.

Fisheries.
Sir Henry Drayton declared that the difference between the policies of Canada and the United States was typified in the fishing industry. In spite of the fact that a mutually existing between the two countries, Canadian fishermen were shut out of United States ports, while Canadian ports were open to the Americans.

There must be some kind of a basis for reciprocity before it could be considered seriously. A little more equality in tariffs was required.

Oil Bounty.
Declaring that the resolution to amend the petroleum bounty would mean the complete elimination of the oil fields of Western Ontario, in which some $2,000,000 was invested, R. V. LeSueur, Conservative, Lambton West, suggested that the Minister pay the bounty, but put a limit on the number of barrels per well per day. The bounty might be paid on the first five barrels produced each day and on no more.

Dr. Murray MacLaren, Conservative, St. John, N. B., thought the Minister's action, based upon the likelihood of securing a copious supply in the West and North of Canada, was rather premature. The supply was as yet very indefinite and Dr. MacLaren believed the bounties should be continued until there was more evidence of western supply.

Mr. Fielding said if the bounties were continued until the West began to produce oil and then cut off there would be just ground for complaint of discrimination in favor of the oil producers of the East.

He did not want to see the bounty system perpetuated and this bounty had been in operation for some twenty years. The oil industry had been generally and justly dealt with and the producers were given two years' notice before the bounty was being cut off.

The resolution was carried.

Dealing with the amendment relating to the tax on cheques, Mr. Fielding said the effect of the amendment was to limit the reduction in the maximum tax from $2 to $1 to cheques, express orders, post office money orders, and so on, leaving the old tax applicable to promissory notes and bank overdrafts.

This was being done because he was in debt. Under the existing law and regulations, a man who borrowed money on January 2 and paid it back on March 30 was taxed only once. But if he borrowed the money on March 30 and returned it on April 1, he had to pay the tax twice.

Sir Henry Drayton put a series of cases as to the variations in the tax on drafts drawn in Canada payable here and drafts drawn in a foreign country payable here.

Mr. Fielding, however, declined to give a decision on the spot and Sir Henry complimented him on his discretion. He ventured to say that the Minister had no idea what revenue he was getting out of it.

Two Kinds of Stamps.
Mr. Fielding replied that he could not tell the exact amount because both postage stamps and revenue stamps were used. He, the Minister, proposed to change the system, which was, he added, the same as that in Sir Henry's budget.

Sir Henry asked on a matter of principle whether stamps should be fixed to drafts before collection or after acceptance.

Mr. Fielding replied that he would give Sir Henry information as he wanted if sent to him in the form of questions.

Sir Henry Drayton then asked the Customs Minister how the collection of the tax was checked up. Hon. Jacques Bureau, Minister of Customs, replied that the law provided for that. Bankers did not need to be checked, but if they did accept an unstamped cheque they could be penalized.

Amendment Lost.
Sir Henry Drayton moved an amendment that there should be no addition to the two cent tax until the amount of a cheque was more than $500.

Mr. Fielding objected to Sir Henry's amendment. Under the prevailing system, a cheque of $500 would pay twenty cents. If Sir Henry's amendment carried, it would pay only two cents. "We need the money," he declared.

The Drayton amendment was declared lost.

Robert Forke, Progressive leader, remarked that all taxes were unpopular and that the stamp tax on cheques was an old established one in Great Britain. He moved an amendment providing for a maximum amount of $2 as at present, instead of $1 as in the resolution.

Out of Order.
Mr. Fielding objected on the ground that an amendment to increase taxation proposed in a resolution was out of order. He was not by any means sure that increasing the maximum would increase the revenue.

This objection was sustained by the chairman, who ruled the Forke amendment out of order.

The resolution as amended by Mr. Fielding was then carried.

CHANGES IN SENATE AND COMMONS ACT

Federal Committee Recommended New Plan for Payment of Indemnities

Ottawa, June 15.—A number of changes in the Senate and House of Commons Act, in regard to the payment of members and senators are recommended in the report of the joint committee of the two Houses on procedure and on the Act, which was tabled in the House yesterday afternoon.

The main alteration proposed in the law regarding the payment of indemnities is the dropping of the provision under which $25 a day is deducted from the indemnity for every day on which a member or senator is absent from a sitting of either House during the last two weeks of the session.

The provision that a member will not be entitled to the sessional allowance if he does not attend at least three-fourths of the sittings of the House is also dropped, and it is proposed that the sessional allowance be paid for attendance at a session of Parliament lasting fifty days or more, the allowance to be $25 a day for attendance on fewer days.

Another change to be proposed is the payment to members at the end of each month up to an amount of $20 a day instead of $10 a day as at present. A deduction of $25 a day would be made in the absence of a member or senator for more than fifteen days. In case of the House adjourning from one day to another beyond the day immediately following, the member's attendance would be counted for the days intervening.

The proposed changes, with the exception of the provision regarding the payment of the sessional allowance, are recommended to come into effect at the present session.

COMMITTEE ON CANTINE INQUIRY

"John Bull," London Weekly, Will Not Comment Again Till Investigation Ended

London, June 15.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Colonel Grant Morden was called to the witness stand yesterday when the Government committee inquiring into the accounts of the navy and army canteens, in which Canada has a certain amount of interest by reason of participating in the profits, resumed its investigation.

The chairman said his attention had been called to an article in the publication John Bull commenting on the action of the committee. Such an article, even if the comments in it were correct, was very improper while the committee was still sitting, he said.

Colonel Morden, editor of John Bull, replied that he had not been aware of the article until it appeared in print. He agreed that it was improper under the circumstances and he said he would see that such a thing would not occur again.

ALL IS WELL.

Many people have undoubtedly gone to the United States because of their belief in the rosier commercial prospect which that country seems to offer. Nor is there anything particularly surprising in this condition. At the present time our neighbor to the South is reaping certain advantages consequent upon the abnormally good times that have followed the war. It is comparatively simple to understand it. She is a nation of vast resources and is populated with 110,000,000 people.

It would be small wonder if the resumption of trade, backed by a tremendous gold supply that figuratively placed the United States in the position of an economic dictator, did not give her industries an impetus that should last at least for five or six years after the cessation of hostilities. But the case of Canada is entirely different. We have a population of less than 9,000,000 in this country at the present time. For a couple of years conditions from the Atlantic to the Pacific were of that hectic nature which led us to believe that we were living in prosperous times. But Canadian business could not hope to thrive and expand at that rate. Consequently a reaction set in on this side of the international boundary line soon after the compulsory adjustment—which a small population and more or less dormant resources very quickly dictated—had taken place. The effects of that reaction are no more lasting than was that superficial period of prosperity which usually sets in after a spell of commercial restriction that is occasioned by diversion of industrial energy from peace time pursuits to those of war. We thus find that our trade, sent back to normal proportions by the inexorable operation of economic laws, has been steadily growing from proportions which led some Canadians to believe that this country's commerce had reached a low level and would stay there—a fallacious and wholly extraordinary interpretation of industrial movement in a country abounding with natural energy and rich in latent wealth.

What has actually happened, a condition that has been enlarged upon in many quarters in an endeavor to convince the people of this country that they were following a flimsy gleam by migrating to the United States, can be discovered in a comparison of the trade statistics of Canada for the year ending March 31 last with those of the previous twelve months. Here are the figures: 1922-1923 period: $1,748,530,880; 1921-1922 period: $1,501,639,993. In other words here is a gain of nearly a quarter of a billion dollars—a sum that bespeaks a reasonably rapid return to stable conditions. Take the figures in detail and understand that our exports for the 1922-1923 period totalled $932,229,443 as against $740,240,680 for the previous twelve months. Here again is an increase of $191,988,763. Imports—and without imports there can be no exports—in the 1922-1923 period totalled $802,457,043 as against $747,762,984—an increase of $54,694,059. If these statistics mean nothing else they indicate that prosperity is very rapidly returning to Canada. They represent increased trade and a revival of confidence on the part of manufacturers and merchants.

What is wanted now is a little more courage on the part of the people themselves in order that there may be some inducement for the outside investor, to say nothing of the hundreds of Canadians who have idle dollars in the Savings Banks, to take a more practical interest in developing the resources of the country. The opportunities are here. There are agricultural and industrial prospects galore. And we venture to suggest, much as one dislikes to go to Germany for a theme, that if Canada were part of the Teutonic Republic native initiative and enterprise would work a quick transformation. Surely it will not much longer be said that the people of this country are afraid of themselves.

As the figures to which we have referred amply demonstrate, there is nothing wrong with the economic outlook. We are not facing a depletion of our national wealth. We are just victims of our own folly and we do not seem to get up and go at the gait which our neighbors to the South have found so profitable. Happily for the country this condition has not become epidemic. There are already signs of a new understanding of what awaits us. But capitalization of our heritage can only be achieved by dint of hard work and a goodly demonstration of faith. And he would be a bold man indeed who would say that Canadians do not possess the capacity to set these qualities in motion.

RECKLESS DRIVING.

If the Dominion Commissioner of Highways could have his way he would promulgate a law that would permit the seizure of automobiles driven by careless drivers. This may be a drastic suggestion and is not likely to be adopted until things get a great deal more serious than they are at present; but it goes without saying that the possible loss of the car would act as a pretty weighty deterrent to those drivers who seem to imagine that traffic regulations are only for the observance of the other fellow. There is still room for very considerable improvement in the behavior of some motorists. Not all accidents, of course, are caused through recklessness; the unforeseen is always a factor to be encountered. At the same time if the regulations already operative were to be observed more rigidly there would be a considerable falling off in the number of mishaps.

WHY FRANCE IS NOT MOVED.

When Germany throws up her hands in horror when a little blood letting goes on through her own stupidity in the Ruhr it is not surprising that France is not particularly moved. She very likely recalls incidents such as that which a former private of the Thirteenth Canadian Battalion related to Hon. William Pugsley the other day. This young man was taken prisoner by the Huns and was threatened with death on a number of occasions. So ghastly was his treatment—being placed in front of a blast furnace door until his hair and clothing caught fire, in being made to stand in a pit of nearly boiling water as part of his daily round—he begged his captors to end his misery by snuffing out his life. Hundreds of other instances equally as diabolical could be cited and will remain as public record for all time. The debtor nation will get no sympathy by posing as a martyr.

A FREE GIFT.

If the British Government would present the Dominion of Canada with a preference in return for the concession which this country has given Britain we should accept it with thanks. The Chairman of the Vancouver Board of Trade has expressed the opinion in the Old Country newspapers that our Dominion authorities should arrange for this subject to take its place on the Canadian agenda—that will be dealt with at the forthcoming Imperial Conference. In which connection we would point out that when the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier entered into this arrangement with Britain it was then and always has been regarded as a free gift without any specific reciprocal conditions. And it was obvious then, as it is equally obvious now, that if Canada were to ask for a preference such as is suggested it would be tantamount to a desire to interfere or influence an important phase of Britain's domestic policy. The Government of Mr. Mackenzie King will not depart from a principle laid down by the former Liberal Administration.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Lord Castlereagh left New York yesterday and said he was going home to "sober up." He confided to an interviewer that he could buy liquor anywhere in the United States without the slightest trouble; in fact in some places the waiter brought it to him as a matter of course. We are inclined to believe that the forbidden liquid may be obtained; but we shall not swallow all the observations that the gentleman is alleged to have made.

More than 100,000 German marks could have been purchased for one dollar in New York yesterday. We sincerely hope that very few Canadians have been caught by the enticing circular which has been sent out by Montreal vendors—promising an early rise in the value of the mark. Germany will sell as many as possible and then go broke. That is the time the "sucker" will wish he had not dabbled.

A Montreal Court has ruled that the smell of liquor coming from a man was no evidence that he had been drinking while on duty. The case in point was that of a railway brakeman who had been discharged because a passenger had detected the convicting smell of alcohol. Of course it all depends upon how the regulations governing his conduct were worded. If he may not drink intoxicating liquor while on duty, and there is no mention of a prohibition dealing with his conduct for two hours previously, one can only recall the old ditty about the law.

OUR CONTEMPORARIES

LOTS OF CANDIDATES.

Toronto Globe:—Four thousand candidates are running for 400 seats in the new Egyptian parliament, and more are coming. The Egyptians with independent and like children with a new toy, and they are in danger of breaking it.

WATCH MANITOBA.

Toronto Globe:—If Manitoba, which has a larger population of continental European birth and "personal liberty" inclinations than the more westerly provinces, remains bone dry there is little possibility of a change in Saskatchewan or Alberta. In this respect the vote of June 22 may be decisive. The moderationists, if overwhelmed in Manitoba, will have little heart for a continuation of the fight in the other prairie provinces.

THE MAIN QUESTION.

Woodstock Sentinel-Review:—Samples of Alberta coal sent to Ontario have been analyzed, so that it is now possible to tell the amount of ash, the volatile combustible matter, the fixed carbon, the thermal units and other things it contains. What the ordinary person wants to know is how much heat he will get out of it in return for the money he puts into it.

WHEAT FREIGHT RATES.

Winnipeg Free Press:—Wheat is carried from the prairies to the head of the lakes on a special rate. The appeal of British Columbia in the matter should be for a similar rate to the coast. British Columbia enjoys the advantage of many special preferential rates at the present time. If it can gain this one, with the support and co-operation of the prairies, Winnipeg will have no objection. Winnipeg is the centre of the western grain trade and that advantage cannot be taken away from her. And Winnipeg's single desire is to see the farmers prosperous.

THE TRANSPORT PROBLEM.

Windsor Border Cities Star:—We do not hear very much about the St. Lawrence waterways plan from the House of Commons at Ottawa. The Government and Opposition talk about everything else, combating each other at every turn of the road without throwing out, on its merits, a plan which should do much to solve Canada's problems. Transport is the biggest question of today, now that it has grown beyond the ability of the railroads to handle. It is the very life-blood of industry and agriculture. We cannot afford to let our arteries harden.

LIVING ON THE MOTHERLAND.

Sydney Bulletin:—It has been argued, and by none more loudly than those who have lived politically on Imperialism for years, that Australia cannot afford to pay adequately for its external defence. This is only another way of saying that Britain, which is raising in personal taxation £2 to every £1 raised by Australia, should undertake the obligations of defending our trade, our freedom and our racial purity for us—a proposition that should be revolting to any self-respecting citizen of the Commonwealth, and that will certainly be revolting to the average Britisher.

WEATHER AND HEALTH

To the Editor:—Your local contemporary, in its issue of June 9, has a leading article on the subject of weather and health. The article in question, while affording some amusement, also leaves room for the following observations:

It seems "superfluous" to make scientific investigations in order to prove what most people in all ages since Adam—and before—must have realized through experience, namely, that we are affected in health and temperament by climatic changes, or rather, by the circumstances responsible for such changes. It is suggested that any inquiry into the effects of weather upon health should be worked out by co-operation between the medical profession and meteorological experts. And what then? Suppose that they prove scientifically what ordinary man has known since the Stone Age—that weather affects health, temperament and mentality, what is the next step? Can we alter the weather to suit ourselves, and if we could alter it to suit A, would the change be acceptable to B?

It is not necessary for a Miss Margaret Hume, or anybody else, to experiment on rats in order to establish the influence of light or food on rickets. We have heard about the investigations in Vienna and elsewhere before now, and know the effects of light and food on health before the horrible work was ever thought about. Ordinarily, this remark might seem superfluous, but we are dealing with extraordinary circumstances. Scientifically, apparently, do not make distinctions and so a variety of animals are used in the fruitless effort to draw deductions from their sufferings which will be applicable to disease in human beings. We have heard of a great surgeon called Professor Lawson Tait, who asked that his tombstone might bear the following inscription: (The only inscription he wished upon it):

"He labored to divert his profession from the blundering which has resulted from the performance of experiments on the sub-human groups of animal life in the hope that they would shed light on the aberrant physiology of the human groups. Such experiments have never succeeded and never can, and they have, as in the cases of Koch, Pasteur and Lister, not only hindered true progress but have covered our profession with ridicule."

Judging by the results of their work, some investigations seem to have considerable difficulty in justifying their existence. One of the oddest "scientific" tests is that of the London milk supply at the Lister Institute. The morning samples of milk are injected into the bodies of guinea pigs which are then put into small tin cans where they exist for five weeks. When they are killed and a post-mortem examination is made, they are pronounced healthy or tubercular. If the latter, a protest is sent to the dairy supplying that particular sample of milk. Common sense suggests that the conditions of dairies, cattle and workers employed might be more important than testing the powers of resistance in a guinea pig, which is liable to suffer ill-health after five weeks' sojourn in a tin, deprived of proper air and exercise. This institution, by the way, was making a yearly revenue of $75,000 by the sale of vaccines and sera, and this was before the war!

Another curious anomaly is the Imperial Cancer Research Institute. Cancer experiments have been made for twenty years and they have involved a monument of suffering which might put any Christian country to shame. Moreover, they have been barren of result; for the death-rate from this disease continues to rise steadily and ever must until we find logical and legitimate methods of dealing with the question. It is sad that science and common sense should often be so greatly estranged and that principles should be violated for material or commercial ends. In the meantime, we reap as we have sown!

JUDGE SHARPLY REPRISANDS JURY

Mr. Justice Morrison Told Prince Rupert Jurors to Heed Evidence

Verdict Then Brought in Freeing Two Men

Prince Rupert, June 15.—(Canadian Press)—The trial of Clarence Elwin and Raymond Kevia, charged with having attempted to murder Boyd Young, a Fort Simpson last September during a brawl, ended yesterday in a verdict of not guilty after the judge had severely reprimanded the jury.

After two hours of deliberation the jury had disagreed and so reported to the court. Mr. Justice Morrison questioned if the jury could have recognized their oath. He thought that such verdicts had a tendency to only decline to accept the jury's verdict, and he must instruct the jurors to retire and endeavor to find a verdict either of guilty or not guilty. The jurors then retired for a second time, and after twenty minutes' further deliberation returned a verdict of not guilty.

PLAYHOUSE

The Compton players are drawing large and most appreciative audiences in the presentation of "The Bells," in which the famous English actor Sir Henry Irving, won fame equal to that of his Shakespearean roles.

This melodramatic play is being presented by the Compton Players cleverly and realistically and the scenic features are excellent.

The role of Mathias, who early in life killed a Polish Jew and afterwards was haunted by the sound of the bells of the Jew's sledge, was portrayed by Francis Compton in a very convincing manner. It can truthfully be said that a more dramatic scene has rarely been witnessed in Victoria than that which depicts the vision and dream of Mathias. The third act is unusually well done; the spontaneous outburst being a fitting commendation of the powerful dramatic story. The play will be repeated to-night and tomorrow night, with the usual Saturday matinee.

ROYAL VICTORIA

Nell Shipman declares that she has never employed anyone to "double" for her in the perilous scenes for which her pictures are noted. In "The Grub-Stake," her latest which will be shown again today at the Royal, she hangs over a precipice a thousand feet high, first by a dangling root and then by the hero's arm. When the stunt was under consideration her manager and an insurance company voted against it unless another person be obtained. Nell promised nothing but saw to it that the location chosen was 66 miles from anywhere. So she enacted the scene herself and says that nothing ever looked so good as the brawny hands of the rescue party hauling her up to safety.

DOMINION

Jack Pickford, screen star, has gone into the stock-raising business. With a force of fifteen helpers he recently went to Bakersfield in the heart of the stock-raising country of California. He went direct to the Tevis Ranch, a domain of 100,000 acres, four miles from Bakersfield, and there assumed charge of the work of raising thoroughbred horses. "Assumed" is the proper word, for Jack was only a movie stock breeder in connection with his new photograph, "Garrison's Finish," his first picture for Allied Producers and Distributors Corporation the release at the Dominion Theatre.

The Pickford party included his supervising director, Elmer Harris, his director, Arthur Rosson and his entire cast, among whom were Madge Bellamy, who plays the lead; Charles A. Stevenson, Tom Guise, Frank Elliot, Clarence Burton, Ethel Grey Terry, Audrey Chapman, Dorothy Manners, Herbert Prior, Charles Ogden and Lydia Knott.

"Garrison's Finish" is a story of race-track life suggested by W. B. M. Ferguson's novel of the same name. Elmer Harris is author of the screen version. The Tevis Ranch, where the stock farm scenes for this play were made, is one of the largest ranches in the United States. Practically all of this vast estate is now under intensive cultivation. There is a race-track on the ranch and some of the finest racehorses in the country are bred there.

CAPITOL

Claire Windsor, Mae Busch, Helene Chadwick, surely, a bevy of fair ones, if we were made for seeing!

Well, Goldwyn has gathered them all in "Brothers Under the Skin," a picture which threatens to be the reality of that fabulous creature, an all-star cast.

"DIANA OF THE CROSSWAYS" COMING TO THE CAPITOL

Capitol will show next week one of the best of British made pictures that have lately come to Canada, in "Diana of the Crossways," a film version of the famous story by George Meredith, the tale of a clever and beautiful woman who could not stand alone, a picture palpitating with life, with the brilliant, witty, love-messed heroine played by Fay Compton. The picture was produced by Mr. Denison Clift, one of the foremost of British film directors who has in "Diana" given Miss Fay Compton one of her greatest screen opportunities and her acting will compare favorably with the finest of American screen stars. Miss Compton is supported by a brilliant West End cast, which includes Henry Victor, J. Fisher White, Lo Dawson, Reginald Fox, E. Dagnall, J. R. Tozer, and Harding Steerman.

THE RADIO BOYS 1923 FANCIES AT THE GORGE

The Radio Boys 1923 "Fancies," troupe of entertainers at the Gorge Park, are a decided attraction. The Radio Boys themselves hardly need introducing, for they are extremely popular in the city, as well as all over the country. It was here, however, they were here for a few weeks in the Fall of last year, creating an enviable reputation. After leaving the city Archibald Farnish and Wilfred Hill traveled extensively as a double act with great success, and were headed for Australia when the call of "Follow the Birds to Victoria" attracted them once more, hence the 1923 Fancies were formed and brought here for the present season. This aggregation is a very pleasing one and includes dainty ladies as well as the boys. The boys, who are the Troops Merry in France. As the season advances it is intended to produce very special and novel shows. The present week's program is brim full of good comedy and melody with all the latest hits put over in the usual Radio style, which means quite a lot. Then there is a new musical farce by Archibald Farnish, entitled "Some Speed."

LIFE AFTER DEATH RESTFUL AND HAPPY

us. That was in my own house, beyond all possibility of trickery."

Appearance of Son.

"The next scene that turned my attention to this glorious revelation was also in my own house. We had as a medium a miner who sat with his hands tied among us. He fell into a deep trance and the lights were turned down, for ectoplasmic manifestations are said to be visible only in a white light. In the darkened room I heard the voice of my son talking to me on a subject that none but he and I could have known anything about. It was the last thing he had been worrying about, evidently. I said, 'It is all right, my boy, and I feel his hand on my shoulder, and then his lips pressed on my face—again there could have been no mistake or trickery. It is any wonder that I feel the urge to carry out this mission—to try to train and attune your minds to the message they are endeavoring to get to us here on earth.'" said the speaker earnestly.

To Check Trickery.

Sir Arthur went on to relate how later he had seen the face of his mother, and found a message on a piece of paper on the table in the room signed by a name that she alone had used when writing to him in life. The revelation was the most important matter in life, held the speaker, who urged standardization of the medium status and the disbanding of the faked and tricked seances: to clear the way to a research that would be universally accepted. "We are getting from the other world a vast flood of knowledge," he resumed. "This detailed information is coming in our day and it says the same thing all over the world. Mediums in China, Australia and maybe here in Victoria will tell you that all who have gone before say they are happy in the world hereafter."

The Astral Body.

Summarizing his impressions of the next world as gleaned from this ethereal source Sir Arthur said death was a painless process—a flitting of the soul into the next world to be there received by smiling faces and outstretched arms of friends. Everyone had two bodies, the dead led him to believe a spiritual body which lay at rest when dead in its coffin, and an astral body which was an exact duplicate of the natural body. The duplicate was beautiful, as of the natural body at its very best. Everyone on the other side was exactly the same as on this side of the divide, he continued, and progressed with the same character, appearance and being as before. There was, however, a refinement of character, with a refinement of character, and being in mankind exemplified and the dress cast off.

No Desire to Return.

The temporal body passed. The astral body took up life in an ethereal world where everything was as etheric as itself—and all was real and solid as the sense. The next world was so like this world that death seemed unreal. Immediately after passing the soul was granted rest and a vacation of three days to a week. In this connection the speaker pointed to the period of three days between the burial and ascension of Christ, and to the period of three days was significant, he said. After this rest the soul was led forth into the awakening of Christ, and existence and there was no desire to come back. All were happy in the new land, which was a replica of this world towards the spiritual—not all spiritual, as Providence willed change by evolution as shown in Nature—a gradual change. There would be further, higher and better worlds to go to before the soul was spiritual in its full existence.

Lady Conan Doyle, said the speaker, had developed the power of automatic writing—that is, of writing under the control of those in the world beyond. In this manner the speaker had learned much of his knowledge on this subject.

Messages From Beyond.

Reading sample messages received he said from those who had gone before, and with whom he was intimately acquainted, Sir Arthur gave the following quotations from messages thus received: "God has made this world a counterpart of yours—on a higher and happier sphere," said one.

"If earth mothers only knew how happy their children were here they would not grieve," said another. "I would not return for all I ever owned—orthodoxy does not matter here." was the burden of a third. "It is all so very different to what I imagined. Life is so much more here than on earth—this is life if you like, the other was only a grey existence," held a fourth spirit message. "There are no words to describe the joy of this life—if mankind only knew the good that awaits them here," was the final message read. "This had been transmitted to him by his mother," said the speaker.

The Glorious Future. "That is the force that is driving us around the world—to get to you the message that however long and grey the path here on earth may be, down the road there is waiting a glorious life," he said. The wicked, and humanity was wonderfully good on the whole, would learn in the next world and in the world beyond not to abandon their selfishness and their warped way of living. The wicked were undoubtedly punished in the next world by a chastening to right their minds and turn them from unnatural lives—and the bigots would share in this chastening—bigotry in any form was a vice—the vice of religious cruelty. Barring these the entrance to Paradise was wide and immediate—its gates open to all upon crossing the bar.

There was no royal road to Heaven—salvation provided each devotee was sincere in his or her belief and in the moment. Each religion was good when it was good for the individual and made him better. Spiritualism instead of being against the tenets of Christianity was its firmest aid, held the speaker.

Ectoplasm.

Ectoplasm said the speaker in passing was emanated by all persons, and by medium to a greater degree. "The medium lost in weight the exact weight of the ectoplasm emitted. This had been proved, he said. Ectoplasmic clouds were the base on which spirit manifestations were formed—at his shoulder of his plastic clay-like substance sticky with the constituency of putty, he said.

Speaking of the more immediate results of his present tour Sir Arthur said he saw fourteen ectoplasmic figures materialized at one sitting by a medium in a seance at Los Angeles two weeks ago. A few days ago in Seattle the lecturer secured photographs, he said, in which the ethereal face of an elderly lady just deceased smiled back at her mourners over her open coffin in which the temporal body lay stilled.

This photograph was vouched for by a letter from Dr. J. D. Power, head of the Psychic Research Society of Seattle, also screened. Included in a long list of spirit photographs shown was one showing, said the speaker, the face of Raymond Lodge, killed in action, between the heads of his mother and a medium photographed in England. Another purporting to show the faces of soldiers killed in action hovering over the crowds who stood bareheaded in front of the Lord's Cenotaph on Memorial Day closed the series.

BOY SCOUT ASSOCIATION

St. Mary's Troop held its camp last week-end, under Scoutmaster Sykes, going out on Friday evening and returning Sunday night. About half the troop were present, and enjoyed a splendid camp, despite the vagaries of the weather.

Crickets seems to have been regularly adopted by both Scouts and Cubs, and most units are now getting in shape for the cricket season. Good cricket pitches, however, are not easy to find, and the City authorities might take the hint, and prepare suitable grounds in the various parks, e.g., Victoria West Park, for this truly British game, as well as for some of its rivals. A very little expenditure in levelling and rolling would suffice, and make the game much safer than the present lumpy, unevenly available.

The Cubmasters' Meeting will be discontinued during the Summer months; the next meeting will be announced by the chairman.

The Badge Committee will meet on Tuesday, June 19 at 5 p. m. at headquarters.

At the Scout Officers' Council, a committee was appointed to make the necessary arrangements for the Scout Athletic Sports. Further announcements will be made later, meantime, get into training, and ready for the day. The question of the First-Class Badge, and especially the Journey Test, was also discussed at length.

NEW PRESIDENT

Canadian Good Roads Association Rejects New Brunswick Premier

Hamilton, Ont., June 15.—Russell T. Kelly, of Hamilton, was elected president of the Canadian Good Roads Association, the central Ontario delegates out-voting representatives of all provinces in the Dominion twenty-eight to twenty-four, and defeating the Hon. P. J. Veniot, Premier of New Brunswick, whose name the nomination committee submitted to the convention without Premier Veniot's consent.

Hon. F. C. Biggs was elected vice-president.

E. A. James, of Toronto, urged Mr. Kelly to retire in the interests of the association and prevent a split.

A. F. McCallum, chairman, charged that a clique was operating within the convention and thought it was time a halt was called. The statement was resented by several speakers, and finally it was agreed to withdraw the charge.

Objection was then raised to Ontario taking the office of president and vice-president, especially in view of the fact that a democratic nominating committee had made selections after careful consideration.

"I ask if this province is to have this picture painted of itself for the eyes of all Canada?" asked President Ferron.

Other officers nominated by the committee and endorsed by the convention were: Hon. J. L. Perron, Quebec, honorary president; A. McGillivray, Manitoba, second vice-president; and George A. McNamee, secretary-treasurer.

Western directors—S. R. Henderson, Manitoba; S. H. Carpenter, Saskatchewan; J. B. Robertson, Alberta; Patrick Philip, British Columbia; and P. R. McD. Russell, British Columbia.

FORMER VICTORIA GIRLS MARRIED

Miss Norma Gates Clark Becomes Bride of Bellingham Man

Many of the bride's former friends will be much interested in the following account of the wedding of Miss Norma Gates Clark, formerly of Victoria, which took place in Bellingham on Saturday last:

"St. Paul's Episcopal Church formed the effective setting yesterday afternoon for the beautiful wedding of Miss Norma Gates Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Wilson Clark, of Bellingham, formerly of Victoria, B. C., with James Morgan Van Winkle, of Seattle and Bellingham. Masses of June blooms made the decorative motif in pink and white with the chancel screen garlanded in huckleberry-vine and hanging baskets of flowers. Rev. W. B. Turill was the officiating minister and the service was fully choral.

"The Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin announced the arrival of the bride. The ushers, Messrs. Milton and Jack Clark, brothers of the bride, were followed by the bridesmaids, Miss Evelyn Culver, who wore a dress of dull blue, gossamer crepe, hat of silver lace and carried a bouquet of pink snapdragons, and Miss Ella Simpson, of Victoria, B. C., who wore orchid georgette and hat to match and carried a bouquet of yellow snapdragons. The matron of honor, Mrs. Jack James, of Salt Spring, B. C., wore a lovely gown of rose georgette crepe, gold lace hat and carried rose snapdragons.

"The bride was preceded by the little flower girl, Miss Mary Elizabeth McMahon, in ruffled pink orsade and carrying a gilt basket of flower petals. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory charmeuse satin trimmed with pearls and crystal beads, silk tulle veil and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses, lavender and white sweet peas. After the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home. After a honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. Van Winkle will be at home at 2553 Park Drive, Bellingham. The bride is a graduate of the University of British Columbia and has been studying English in the Whetcom High School.

YOUR HOME AND YOU

By HELEN KENDALL

The Guest House

"We're putting you in the guest house," smiled my hostess, leading the way across her smooth lawn, followed by a maid carrying my bag. Down the garden we went, with tall hollyhocks on each side, under a curving arbor and into so tiny and picturesque a cottage that it might have been the wife's house in a fairy tale. It was made entirely of sugar cookies.

There were two rooms in this guest house, a charming little sitting room and a bedroom with a shower bath in one corner, hidden by a chintz curtain. There was a couch in the living room, and that three persons could occupy the house if need be, for the bedroom held pretty twin beds. It was all furnished in the gayest of summer hangings, and posies at their heads into it from the garden just outside.

The hostess perched herself on a chair arm and explained about it. "After the babies began coming the house just wasn't large enough," she said. "At first the nursery was sufficient, but the time came when we had to use one of the guest rooms—we had only two, you know. We didn't want to enlarge the house because that would spoil its lines, and we had modeled it after a little English timbered cottage. One guest room isn't enough, for some relative of "Buncrana," the beautiful residence of Hon. and Mrs. W. J. Bowser, will be the scene of a garden party under the auspices of the Margaret Rocke Robertson Chapter, I. O. E., to-morrow afternoon from 3 until 6 o'clock. Many attractions have been arranged and the lovely gardens with their superb panoramic view will well repay a visit.

Dr. and Mrs. N. Wolverton, of Nelson, are on their way here for a short visit.

Mrs. W. H. Rowlands, Phoenix Place, returned to Victoria on Wednesday from ten-weeks holiday spent in visiting the various cities in California as far South as the Mexican border.

Mrs. Arthur Lincham accompanied by the Misses Fields, of San Francisco, and her son, Mr. Eugene Lincham, left to-day by motor to spend the week-end at Campbell River. On their return they will leave for Vancouver by way of Nanaimo to spend a few days.

Mr. Hugh Savage, of the Cowichan Leader, who was elected president of the British Columbia and Yukon Press Association at Jasper Park last week; Mr. Thomas Collinge, of the Ladysmith Chronicle; and Mr. R. R. Hindmarsh, of the Nanaimo Herald, have returned to the island from the convention.

The Rev. Dr. Campbell last evening at "Breadalbane," celebrated the marriage of Mr. Alexander Ferrie and Alice Emily, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Harris, all of Victoria. The bride looked very pretty in a gown of green brocade Canton crepe, with hat en suite. She carried a bouquet of white roses and maiden hair fern. She was attended as bridesmaid by Miss Isabel Victoria Lloyd, who wore a gown of old rose crepe de Chine and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. The groomsmen were Mr. Albert Edward Nix. The bride was given in marriage by her father. A large number of friends were present to witness the ceremony. On their return from the honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. Ferrie will make their home in this city.

either Bob's or mine is generally here, and we want to have our good old friends and college pals like you, you know. "So we put our heads together and decided on this little portable cottage. It came all 'cut out' like a dress, and all we had to do was to 'sew it together,' you might say. It has a neat except the fireplace, but that's enough in Spring and Fall, and men don't mind sleeping out here in Winter. We had the water pipes connected with it and the electric wiring carried over from the house, and the place was ready in a week from the time it came. "Our guests love it out here, and it is easier for us, for if a cherub cries at night or is naughty in the morning we don't have to worry about the guest's being annoyed or disturbed. So take off your bunnet and shawl and make yourself 'at home.'"

REMARKABLE CAREER OF MISS DINA WEST

Founder of W. B. A. Is Widely Travelled and Has Unusual Ability

It is given to but few women to see their efforts at organization fructify into a membership of 275,000 embracing half a continent. The Women's Benefit Association which is meeting in supreme session here to-day forms an eloquent testimony to the organizing ability and far-sightedness of Miss Dina West, the founder and Supreme Commander.

Miss West, who is in the city together with her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Conant West, was born at St. Clair County, Michigan. She is a direct descendant of Roger Conant, first Governor of Massachusetts colony, and the Conant who shared the midnight ride with Paul Revere. She graduated from High School at the age of sixteen, and was the first woman in Michigan elected to a seat on the Board of County School Trustees in 1886, and taught school until 1891.

Miss West became interested in fraternal work in 1891, and organized in 1892 the great society of women known as the Women's Benefit Association, the largest society of its kind in the world. Her ability has been widely recognized. She represented the National Council of Women of the United States at the International Council of Women held in Geneva, Switzerland, 1908, and was appointed by Governor Sleeper, of Michigan, as member of committee of three to recodify state laws relating to child welfare.

She is chairman of the Child Welfare Division of Michigan Council, National Defense, prepared the practical programme used by Michigan child welfare clubs; is a member of the First National Republican Executive Committee including women; and vice-chairman of the Michigan Republican State Central Committee.

Miss West is a student of political economy and international questions. Her library, filled with historical and scientific works of which she has close personal knowledge, and her interest in art, painting, china, Oriental rugs, architecture, gardening, has kept her mind from "fruit."

She has visited every state of the Union, and every province of Canada, also Spain, Switzerland, Holland, Belgium, Egypt, Holy Land, Turkey, Greece, Italy, France, Germany, the British Isles and the Orient on four different occasions, and has been in contact with social and economic problems of the world, and the situation and travel for thirty years.

Miss West has personally supervised the disbursement and investment in safe municipal bonds of over forty million dollars representing the savings of provident women for the protection of the homes of this country. A women's woman, Miss West believes in womanhood.

As the chief executive of a large organization, passing on appeals, legal questions, litigation involving claims of beneficiaries, she has developed a rare judicial mind.

She has been since 1895 the editor of Ladies' Review, the official magazine of the Women's Benefit Association.

She is a member of the D. A. R., Eastern Star, Woman's Relief Corps and the Port Huron Music Club and Woman's Club, also Golf and Country Club. Miss West has been associated with the Congregational Church from childhood.

Codville, it is announced that all Girl Guides at Boy Scouts in uniform will be admitted free. The opening ceremony, at which Mrs. Walter C. Nichol will officiate, will take place at 3 p. m. A very attractive programme has been arranged and amid such ideal surroundings the affair is expected to be a great success. The demand for tickets has been very brisk.

Victoria Review Met—Victoria Review No. 1 met in the Knights of Columbus Hall on Tuesday, with Commander Mrs. Jacklin in the chair. There was initiation, and Mrs. Stevens, Commander of Royal Review No. 18, Junior Commander Mrs. Laing, of No. 11, and several members were welcome visitors. Mrs. Garrett had returned from Los Angeles and told of her lovely trip. Mrs. Jacklin could not attend the Marathon meet in Los Angeles owing to the sudden serious illness of her daughter. Much business was transacted, and the Review decided to hold a homecoming sale in Spencer's basement on Saturday morning. Members are requested to have donations down there before noon. All members of the Women's Benefit Association intending taking the trip to Vancouver Monday afternoon must register their names with Mrs. Harrison at the Empress Hotel Friday evening, in order to get tickets.

Women's Canadian Club—A record attendance of members and friends is expected at Tuesday's meeting of the Women's Canadian Club when Miss Winnifred Parker, contralto, will give a song recital, assisted by Mrs. A. J. Gibson.

WOMEN MUST HAVE "SANE" PROPOSALS

Attorney-General Tells Vancouver Women of Fallibility of Intuition

Vancouver, June 15.—Hon. A. M. Manson, Attorney-General of British Columbia, urged women voters of the city to accept their new responsibilities, in a speech delivered before a representative gathering of women at a luncheon Wednesday, given under the joint auspices of the New Era League and the Pioneer Political Equality League.

"Women, as far as public life is concerned, have arrived," said Mr. Manson. "But they have not yet attained full competency in public affairs. They are often better than men, for they have higher ideals and finer instincts, but they still have far to go. With your franchise has come responsibility and we want women to accept the responsibility with intelligence."

"You cannot rely always on your women's intuition—intuition does not always work with politicians. You need a more intimate knowledge of the world's affairs and the situation politically in your city. You must study and read books."

Mr. Manson rapped the feminine habit of passing over the big news of the day in the newspapers, and said that they were too prone to turn to the social pages instead of to the political editorials.

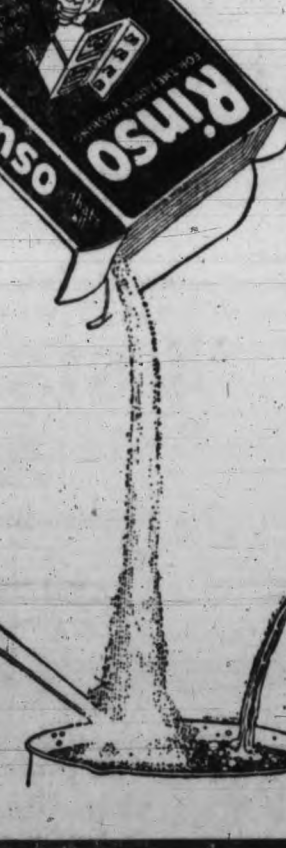

"It is useless to make idle representations and send delegations to me or to any other public official,"

Make the Rinso liquid first

Do not put Rinso direct from the package into the tub. Mix half a package of Rinso in a little cool water until it is like cream. Then add two quarts of boiling water, and when the froth subsides, you will have a clean amber-coloured liquid. Add this liquid to the wash tub, until you get the big lasting Rinso suds. Then soak the clothes clean.

NOTE: In hard water it takes from 1 to 2 packages of Rinso to a tub to make good suds. In very hard water you will need from 1 1/2 to 2 packages to a tub to get the big lasting suds that loosen all the dirt.

ington City June 23

The C. P. R. The bowling club is being formed and will have their opening day in a week or two.

ORIENTAL PROBLEM DISCUSSED IN EAST

Mrs. MacLachlan Addressed
Federated Women's Institutes

Fredericton, N.B., June 15.—To petition the Federal Government for the establishment of a home economic branch in the Department of Agriculture was the main recommendation in the report of the committee of household economics, given yesterday before the Federated Women's Institutes convention.

Mrs. V. S. MacLachlan, of Victoria, spoke on Oriental question in British Columbia at Wednesday afternoon session.

Mrs. MacLachlan appealed to all to use their influence in keeping British Columbia a white man's country. "We are the front line trenches against Oriental immigration," she said. "At present every ninth child registered in British Columbia is of Oriental birth and all are not registered."

Everything depends on Ottawa, she continued, "and we need the help of all Canada." In conclusion she urged "buy at home" industrial campaigns.

Miss Helen Beardon, of Brockville, Ont., corresponding secretary, urged also the making of an effort to secure Federal recognition in the establishment of a headquarters with office facilities, and a trained executive in charge of the work, this bearing a similar relation to the Federal Government as the provincial organizations do to the Provincial Governments.

Mrs. J. F. Price, of Calgary, publicity secretary, stated that every province in Canada, with the exception of Prince Edward Island, carried on regular departments of news in various provincial papers, while Nova Scotia institutes publish a quarterly periodical of their own.

Following this report a lively discussion took place about publishing of an annual report and culminated in a decision to hold an advisory committee on this matter.

NATIONAL UNITY DECLARED A NEED

Speeches at Annual Banquet of Manufacturers' Association in Toronto

Toronto, June 15.—At the annual banquet of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association last night, held in connection with the annual convention of the organization, the problem of Canada's trade was tackled from various angles.

The question of the tariff came to the forefront in the addresses and Hon. G. P. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals, indicated that what the Government had to do was to steer a middle course between the protectionists and the free traders.

This view was criticized by the retiring president, J. R. Shaw.

Mr. Graham, he said, "can not evolve a policy which suits all, it is impossible. The policy must be framed on economic principles. The poor ones go down and the sound ones survive. We have had too much of this balancing of interests. What we want is a real leader. We are getting to the point where we can not pay."

The Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario urged his hearers to close their eyes to the differences between the Dominions and the homeland.

National Unity.

President C. Howard Smith, Montreal, at the outset of his speech, said he realized the great need of Canada to-day was the development of a spirit of national unity, of mutual understanding and of real confidence between one section of the Dominion and another, and between one class and another. ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain
How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food acids, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and get a good dose of Disrupted Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Disrupted Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, is inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion. (Adv.)

If You Want Healthy Children Give Them Plenty of June Milk.

JUNE is not only the month of roses. It is also the month of the best milk. The cows are browsing in succulent June pastures, eating the young green grass. In June, their milk is richer in butter fat than in any other month.

Do your children drink enough of this nourishing, healthful milk? Give it to them with delicious Puffed Wheat or Puffed Rice and they will gladly take all they need.

Children love these appetizing whole grain foods. Each delicate puffed morsel has a tantalizing, nut-like flavor that makes them eager for more. Give them puffed grains any time they are hungry. No need to wait for meal-time, because wholesome, nourishing Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice are good for them at any hour of the day.

There are many tempting ways to serve Puffed Wheat and Puffed Rice. Combined with milk they provide ideal nourishment for breakfast. With berries and cream they are delicious for lunch. Sprinkled with salt and melted butter, they make a delightful after-dinner tit-bit.

CABINET CRISIS
DELAYING REPLY

Views Not Changed
London, June 15.—Replying to a question put by a Labor member in the House of Commons last night, Premier Baldwin denied the Government contemplated implying approval of the Ruhr occupation. He said the Government's views regarding the occupation had not been changed.

The Times, in an editorial reviewing the reparations situation, says it was hardly necessary to ask the question inasmuch as no British Government could make such a declaration without receding from its adopted position.

No Comments
Paris, June 15.—The text of the British note requesting a definition of the French understanding of "passive resistance" has not been made public, but The Matin assures its readers it was accompanied by no comments and gave no idea of what opinion Premier Baldwin may hold.

The questionnaire, as the note is called here, was worded most cordially, says the newspaper.

The terms of the French reply, which Premier Poincaré submitted to Brussels before forwarding it to London, are easy to forecast. The Matin continues. Although it is natural to expect unfortunate incidents in the Ruhr, it is inadmissible, in the opinion of the newspaper, that Berlin should, for example, threaten the railroad men with dismissal if they work for the French or the business men with prison terms if they do business with the French.

End of Resistance
The Matin says France would be glad if Great Britain would join the Ruhr allies in bringing passive resistance to a conclusion, but "France has reached the point where this association is not indispensable."

"Germany is held by the throat," the newspaper adds. "Her death rattle can be heard. No force in the world can relax France's grip. Germany must yield or succumb."

TOLD NO LIE.
Mrs. Exe (returning from call).—How could you be so extravagant in your praise of that girl's wretched daubs? You told her that Whistler could do no better.

When a jury yesterday found him guilty, Mr. Justice Morrison sentenced him to a period extending from the day of his arrest to yesterday, and released him from custody with a warning.

STARVATION OF THE CAT.

With starvation staring them in the face eleven sailors of the ship Sargon, so the correspondent of the Tacoma Times tells us, were prepared to eat baited rats instead. BOARD REPORT

Report of Harbor Commissioners Indicate Shipping Developments

Vancouver, June 15.—According to the annual report of the Vancouver Board of Harbor Commissioners, the Board has a surplus of $292,067.84 for the year ending December 31, 1922, which previously was the record. The surplus for 1922 is $1,553,711.64 and the liabilities, debenture indebtedness, accounts payable, etc., total $1,325,052.18. Receipts were as follows: $134,543.29 for harbor dues, $191,486.44 for cargo fees, $15,000 rental for Government dock, $35,340.10 for Granville Island revenue, $16,204.15 for waterlot rentals, and $1,768.50 for interest.

An interesting comparison of deep-sea arrivals since 1909, shows that in that year 71 vessels came in from foreign ports, while last year the total was 117 vessels. This is 221 more than 1921. Of the deep-sea arrivals 303 were British vessels, 225 American, 123 Japanese, and the balance distributed between Norway, France, Denmark, Holland and Sweden.

Coastwise shipping increased from 11,485 arrivals in 1921 to 16,145 in 1922. There is a corresponding increase in tonnage, freight and passengers. In 1921, the general cargo imported was 1,545,262, which was increased to 1,922,107 in 1922. In logs and lumber the 1922 import was 794,042,288 feet, an increase of 162,839,916 feet over the preceding year.

Outward the general cargo was 1,076,128 tons in 1922, an increase of 491,043 over the year before, while the lumber export in logs and saw material totalled 211,125,229 feet for 1922, as compared with 175,448,209 feet in 1921.

More Foreign Sailings. The report, which is the most comprehensive publication of the kind yet issued by the Board, goes into detail of its present undertakings and its future plans. Considerable space is devoted to the grain trade and to the steps which have been taken toward enlarging the capacity at the present elevator, the plans to build a grain elevator and the private plants which are to be erected.

Speaking of regular foreign service, the report points out that there are twelve sailings each month for United Kingdom ports, fourteen to Japan, twelve to China, two to France, two to Holland, one to Belgium, one to Brazil, two to Chile, two to Colombia, three to Cuba, one to Costa Rica, two to Denmark, two to Ecuador, one to Fiji, three to Germany, two to Guatemala, one to Nicaragua, one to Norway, two to Peru, two to the Philippines, two to Porto Rico, two to Salvador, one to West Indies, one to Spain, one to Straits Settlement, one to Australia and New Zealand, and a sailing each six weeks to India. In addition there is an active and numerous service between Vancouver and American ports on Pacific and Atlantic Coasts, while a ferry service has been inaugurated to Montreal via the Panama.

C. P. R. COAST SERVICE.

The S. S. Princess Royal has taken over the night run to Vancouver in the Canadian Pacific service. The S. S. Princess Mary will take an excursion from Vancouver on Saturday and will later take over the S. S. Princess Maquinna's run up the West Coast while she is being overhauled at Yarrow.

TO CHANGE DOCKS.

Owing to the tide being at its lowest at Sidney at the time of arrival of the ferry Motor Princess from Bellingham, the C. P. R. ferry boat will dock at a temporary landing at Saanichton on Monday and Tuesday instead. This is to avoid the danger of scraping bottom at low tide.

RAILWAY WASHOUTS
WEST OF BANFF

C. P. R. Traffic Expected to Be Restored This Afternoon

Calgary, June 15.—Through traffic to the coast by the C. P. R. has been further interrupted owing to washouts west of Banff. One of these is 150 feet long and another fifty feet, which will necessitate the building of two temporary bridges before the line can be reopened. Officials state that a pile-driver and a full crew are working from each end of the damaged track.

The washouts were caused by the Bow River at Banff being in flood. It is expected the line will be put in a safe condition by about 5 o'clock this afternoon and the first of the delayed trains should arrive at Calgary between 6 and 7 p. m.

TO LOAD LUMBER.

One million feet of lumber will be exported to the Atlantic seaboard by the Canadian Puget Sound Lumber Co. by the steamer Orinoco, which has been fixed to berth at the C. P. R. wharf. The ship was last reported from Norfolk, whence she sailed on May 22 for this Coast.

There are many attachments on the engine which are introduced for the first time in Canada. It is equipped with the Armstrong oiler, an automatic device for lubricating the axles. The McGill matriculation examinations in Arts and Science will commence at the Victoria High School on Monday, June 18, at 9 a. m. (day-light saving time).

Arrangements are being made by those in charge of the Chamber of Commerce cabaret in the auditorium every Saturday evening, to make the affair this week particularly attractive. The catering will be done by the Chamber of Commerce Cafe, and the music and lighting effects will be attractive. Dancing will be from 8.30 to 11.45 p. m.

Mrs. Blanche Barbour, who is in the city giving a course in recitals, will also give a series of four addresses on "Emerson" at the Victoria Club, beginning to-night at 8.15, and continuing on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of next week. The subjects are respectively as follows: "The Philosophy of Emerson," "Character," "The Oversoul," and "Spiritual Laws." The public is invited.

In a warning issued to-day Chief of Police John Fry draws attention to the provision which makes it compulsory for owners or tenants of land to cut and destroy all noxious weeds. It is the largest single landowner, having approximately 2,000 lots under its control in the reverted block of lands, Thistles, burdock, and mustard are some of the weeds held in check.

The City Police are now in possession of a first class revolver range, located in the basement of the police station on Fisgard Street. Four targets are provided, with the necessary installation of lights and steel shields. The work of fitting up the range was done by the police themselves under Chief Fry. Practice last night was held to be good, though few shots hit the actual targets many came sufficiently close to be considered good shooting.

The trial in the Supreme Court before Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald, in which Frederick Richard Marshall, a soldier-farmer of Merrville, sued the Wawanesa Mutual Insurance Company for the sum of $1,000 in respect to an insurance policy on his property destroyed in last summer's fire, is adjourned until Monday. Defendants allege plaintiff claimed to be owner of the property, whereas he was only owner under an agreement of sale.

Past Master James M. Brown, for seventy years a Freemason, was selected to lay the corner stone of the new Masonic block at the corner of Skinner and Commercial Streets, Nanaimo. Mr. Brown was initiated in a lodge in California in 1853. The stone which was put in the old building fifty years ago was used, and a copper casket containing the same coins used on the first occasion of the present building, copies of the Free Press and Herald of Wednesday, and other papers were enclosed in the metal box.

At the meeting of the Oaklands Parent-Teacher Association held on Monday evening, the president, G. Cross paid a touching tribute to the late Mrs. Margaret Jenkins, and spoke of her beautiful life and character and her sympathetic interest in all matters of education. Arrangements were made for a basket picnic to be held at the Willows beach on Saturday afternoon, June 23, to which all members and friends are invited. Hot water will be supplied, and sports are being arranged for the pupils.

The people of Duncan have been making improvements on the town's automobile tourist camp site, and now have a place that they are proud to offer to visitors. Water, electric light and firewood all are supplied. The camp is cool, shaded by maples and other trees, and long dining tables and benches have been built under these for the use of the tourists. A cooking stove has also been erected. The Duncan Board of Trade has in charge of the arrangements connected with the improvement of the camp. The camp is only a few hundred yards from the golf course and the Cowichan River, where bathing and fishing are excellent.

In a short session of the City Police Court to-day Patrick Pearson was acquitted on a charge of driving imprudently. Mrs. Emily Logan, the informant, said the accused had driven a car which followed her across a street intersection. John J. Caulfield, Frederick Spencer, Mrs. Logan, and others gave their versions of the resulting traffic mix-up which had taken place at the corner of Fort and Douglas Streets. The affair had been a misunderstanding, held the court, and dismissed the charge. Hee Kee, who yesterday was warned to pay the poll taxes of his employees, returned to court to-day to say this had been done. A charge against him of neglect to comply with the regulations was then withdrawn with costs set at $2.50, to be paid by Hee Kee. The Western Canada Radio Supply Co. Ltd., formerly charged with erecting a wooden sign over the sidewalk in contravention of the street by-laws, were ordered to pay $25.00 costs. The charge was dropped when it was learned the sign had been taken down. Roger Medd was fined $3 for driving a motor cycle on a sidewalk.

IN NORTHWEST TERRITORIES RADIO WILL BE USED

Ottawa, June 15. — (Canadian Press) — On an item of $190,000 for the government of the Yukon Territory in the House last night, George Black, Conservative, Yukon, asked Hon. Charles Stewart to increase the Territorial Council by one member, making four, and also to increase their indemnities. Mr. Stewart said he could not at present recommend these changes. When an item of $322,500 for government of the Northwest Territories was taken up, Mr. Stewart said he was installing a radio to replace a very expensive land telegraph service now operating. The item carried, as did several small votes of supplementary estimates.

PRESS OF COAST RECOGNIZES VALUE

The publicity attained for the convention of the Women's Bene- fit Association in Pacific Coast cities is probably unique. Leading papers in each of the cities have featured the meeting in four, six and eight page sections, and illustrated front page articles have shown interest in the affairs of the organization. In some cities newspapers have also given radio programmes.

Arms; District of Columbia by Mrs. Eva L. McNett, Deputy Supreme Commander; California by Mrs. Minnie W. Aydelotte, Deputy Supreme Commander; Indiana by Mrs. Grace Meredith, Member Supreme Board of Trustees and Mrs. Minnie B. Olds, Supreme Finance Auditor; Missouri by Mrs. May A. C. Som- mers, Great Commander; Michigan by Mrs. Alberta V. Droelle, Great Commander, and Mrs. Jessie K. Fager, Deputy Supreme Commander; Minnesota by Mrs. Harriet Olson, Great Commander; Virginia by Mrs. Etta M. King and Arkansas by Mrs. Lillian Mason, Great Commander.

Another very special guest is Dr. Ella J. Fifield, Supreme Medical Ex- aminer of Port Huron, Michigan, who formerly resided at Tacoma, Washington. Dr. Fifield used to be a frequent visitor in Victoria before her official duties took her to Port Huron, Michigan, where the head- quarters of the Association are lo- cated.

The Mayor's attempt at peace mak- ing will be launched at an informal dinner which he will give to Council members in the Chamber of Com- merce rooms to-night. At this din- ner the Mayor will lay before his colleagues a complete plan for re- modeling the city's financial machin- ery, and will urge them to agree on this or some other definite scheme before they go home.

"I shall lay my plan before the Council to-night, and the aldermen can adopt it, change it or reject it," the Mayor said to-day. "The time has come to get together on the whole question of re-organizing the fi- nance department as a result of the death of the late comptroller. That will be the purpose of to-night's meeting."

Council Still Divided. The Mayor feels that the aldermen, after a good dinner together, will be more likely to look at things am- ably and reach a harmonious set- tlement than at a formal Council meeting. So far as could be learned at the City Hall the Council is still divided into two camps, one of which is asking for the appointment of a city controller who will supervise all departments, and the other is de- manding that present officials re- main in complete charge of city business. The faction opposed to the appointment of a controller is still in the majority, although when the mat- ter was first discussed some time ago a majority based Aldermen David Leeming's controller plan. Since that time, however, three al- dermen have changed their minds, and are now supporting Alderman George Sanster. In his fight against the appointment.

Purchase Important Forest
Area North of Vancouver

Vancouver, June 15.—The sale of 150,000,000 feet of timber on Sunder-land Inlet, 160 miles north of Vancouver, to Patrick McCoy, of Seattle, Wash., was announced here yesterday. John A. Smith and A. J. Anderson, of this city, being the vendors. The purchase price is said to have been more than $250,000.

The property, which covers 4,100 acres, is located a short distance inland from Jackson Bay, up Sunder-land Inlet, about 160 miles north of Vancouver. While there is no information as to the consideration, it is estimated it is well over a quarter of a million, as the timber is an excellent stand and cruises approximately 75,000,000 feet of cedar, 27,000,000 feet of fir, and 17,000,000 feet of hemlock. Chicago capital is known to be involved in the deal. In the vicinity are some of the best timber stands on the coast.

Adjoining the area sold are the timber limits being logged by P. A. Wilson & Company. As it is reported that the McCoy interest intend to begin work immediately, the logical conclusion is that their area will be logged in connection with the Wilson operations, which consist of a large camp, including some eight miles of logging railway. Mr. McCoy is a well known logging operator and some time ago sold his Washington holdings to the St. Paul & Tacoma crowd for a sum reported to have been approximately a million dollars.

$1,500,000 FOR MERCHANT SHIPS Commons Votes Loan to Cover Deficits of Govern- ment System

Ottawa, June 15.—Following several hours of debate, the House of Commons last night passed a vote of $1,500,000 as a loan to the Canadian Government Merchant Marine to be applied to operating deficits during the present fiscal year.

Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, took occasion to review the history of the Government ships, emphasizing that before the ship building programme of the war was undertaken, the Opposition of that day had urged the need for such a programme.

He claimed with regard to quality of construction, that no enterprise of the Canadian people had been carried through with greater credit. He did not think, however, that the country was now getting from the vessels the benefit it should get.

Too Late.

As to the argument that the ships should have been sold when prices were good instead of using them as government enterprise, Mr. Meighen questioned if there was any business in the world to-day which would not be better off if it had sold off its assets two years ago and then bought them back later. The demand for the sale of these ships had come after the event, however, when the market had slumped.

In order to meet the competition of the C. P. R. with its 400,000 tons of shipping, the Canadian National Railways had to have ships, he said. The value of the Merchant Marine, said Mr. Meighen, had been shown in the West Indies trade.

Information Asked.

Robert Forke, Progressive leader, said the Progressive members were most anxious to have information about the ships. In visiting Montreal last summer, he had been surprised to notice four of these vessels lying idle.

Mr. Meighen replied that there was perhaps some lack of sympathy in operating the vessels, or a lack of desire to make them pay.

Without the Merchant Marine, he declared, Canada would have to subsidize other vessels to do the work which was done by the Merchant Marine.

Mr. Meighen did not believe the country was getting the benefit from the ships that it ought to. The business of the White Star Line with the Grand Trunk System should have gone to the Canadian Merchant Marine, but he did not believe that it had. The last three years had shown that the railway could be run by a business directorate even if owned by the country, he said. Why then could a shipping line not be similarly managed?

Criticism of the construction of the ships of the Merchant Marine came from T. G. McBride, Progressive, Carleton Place, who asserted the ships were in no wise suitable for passenger accommodation. It would be a waste of money to go to the expense of installing such accommodation. He believed the Government could not do better than get rid of the smaller vessels. The House, he claimed, had no right to vote this money year after year to compete with legitimate companies.

Smaller Ships.

E. J. Garland, Progressive, Bow River, declared the tendency now was, if anything, to build small vessels. One could hardly expect the Canadian Government Merchant Marine to pay on its capital costs.

Mr. Garland suggested that in view of the combine on the Great Lakes, which had elevated the price of carrying grain out of all reason, the ships of the Merchant Marine that had been placed on the Lakes could compete and bring about fair prices.

Hon. G. P. Graham, Minister of Railways, said some of the routes were paying and showing up much better than last year, which had proved a disastrous one for shipping generally.

Mr. Graham did not think the smaller ships could compete on the Great Lakes with ships specially built for carrying grain, with a capacity for a vast cargo and facilities for rapid unloading. They were suitable, however, for the coastal package trade, and could be sold, he thought, for such use.

A Fair Trial.

W. F. Maclean, Conservative, York South, hoped the pledge given by the Government some time ago that the National Railways were to have a fair trial would be extended to the Merchant Marine. The vessels of the Merchant Marine were not inferior. They were good ships and should not be scrapped.

J. S. Woodsworth, Labor, Centre Winnipeg, declared the debate had shown there was a feeling of opposition on the part of some of the members to national ownership of these ships. He was glad the Government was going to give the Merchant Marine a fair trial. He had been assured the Merchant Marine would be in a position to act as a check on the shipping trust which had grown up on the Atlantic Coast.

Church's Views.

T. L. Church, Conservative, North Toronto, strongly criticized the proposal for the sale of twenty-five Merchant Marine ships. The people on the Great Lakes wanted competition. These ships had not been built for to-day but for to-morrow, declared Mr. Church. They should be put in coasting trade and given a fair trial for a year or two.

Mr. Church strongly criticized the management of the Merchant Marine. "Sir Henry Thornton is not the cure-all for all the transportation evils of this country," he said.

BUTTERFAT-MILK YIELD OF B. C. COWS MAKES BIG JUMP

Average Is Increased So Ten
Now Give As Much
As Twelve

Thornbury, Chief Cow Tester, Completes Results of Eight Years' Work

The average herd of ten cows in B. C. to-day is yielding as much milk and fat as twelve cows were eight years ago, cow tests which have been carried on for the last eight years show.

This is the announcement from G. H. Thornbury, chief of the cow-testing department of the Provincial Government, who to-day completed his summaries of results achieved from the cow-testing work of the last eight years, since cow-testing was inaugurated here.

"This increase is an average, it has to be remembered, as there are many herds with a much larger increase," Mr. Thornbury said. "The cow-testing is carried on for the purpose of helping the farmer to increase the average production of his herd through intelligent methods of breeding, feeding and weeding."

"When it is considered that the approximate annual yield of the average cow in this Province is 4,500 pounds of milk containing 160 pounds of butterfat, the value of cow-testing work to all dairymen that are taking advantage of it can be readily appreciated."

To briefly illustrate: "To produce one ton of butter in one year it will either require eleven of the average cows in the Province or only six of the average cows in the testing associations. This is a direct saving of: (1) Maintenance rations to keep five cows alive for 365 days, or a total of 1,825 days' maintenance for one cow; (2) the chore of milking five cows twice a day for ten months, or a total of 3,000 milkings.

"The average dairy farmer with the average cow of the Province requires nearly twice as many cows to produce a stated amount of butter in a given time as the dairyman who is a member of a local cow-testing association."

"Records of production of about 2,000 cows are being kept annual in the five associations now in operation. These are situated at Chilliwack, Comox, Langley-Surrey, Kelowna-Vernon and Richmond-Ladner."

"Owing to an unfortunate lapse in testing operations in the Richmond district during the early part of 1922, no completed reports have been received from this association for the past year."

He is Mr. Thornbury's summary of results from eight years' cow-testing work, from 1915 to 1922:

Average yield of all cows reported.
Year	Lbs. of	Average %	Lbs.
	Milk	Fat	Fat
1922	7,073	4.47	316.0
1915	6,517	4.07	265.2
Increase	556	.40	50.8

WAR CLAIMS ARE HEARD IN MONTREAL

Armenian Naturalized in Canada Asks $39,000 From Turkey

Montreal, June 15.—Evidence heard here yesterday afternoon before the commission presided over by Hon. William Pugsley turned on Turkish atrocities against Armenians. The case was that of A. Mossolan, a naturalized Canadian subject, who is asking for $39,000 for loss of his family and $15,000 for damage to property in Armenia during the Turkish massacre.

He stated that his wife had been murdered, a son and daughter starved to death and a second daughter taken away, while he had only been able to escape after months of traveling under protection of darkness until he could reach neutral territory.

Several insurance companies and the Y.M.C.A., the latter for war risk insurance, the former for claims paid due to loss of life in the war, were also heard.

Firm lips

Closed even when she smiles. All because a cloudy film dims the luster of her teeth.

An open smile

Pretty teeth often form a woman's chief attraction. Countless women get them now by removing film.

What Women Lose By Dingy Teeth—Why Do It?

Dingy teeth rob women of a major charm. Not beauty only, but that added grace which lies in the open smile.

Millions of women have found a way to whiter teeth, also to better protection. You meet them everywhere today—with teeth you envy, maybe.

Will you not learn how they get them—by this delightful test?

Due to film

That viscous film you feel on teeth is what clouds them. And it often wrecks them. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays. Food stains, etc., discolor it, then it forms dingy coats. Tartar is based on film.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. It holds the acids in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Thus most tooth troubles are now traced to that unsightly film.

Ways to end it

Tooth troubles were increasing until very few escaped. So dental science sought for ways to fight that film. In time two ways were found. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Able authorities proved those methods. Then a new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern research. Those two great film combatants were embodied in it.

The name of that tooth paste is Pepsodent. Careful people of some 30 nations now employ it daily, largely by dental advice.

What must be done

Research also proved two other things essential. So Pepsodent multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize mouth acids, the cause of tooth decay. It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva.

That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise ferment and form acids. Old-time tooth pastes, it was found, seriously diminished those great tooth-protecting agents in the mouth.

Watch it act

Use Pepsodent for ten days. See for yourself what it does. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

Then decide by what you see and feel. Judge what is best for you and yours. Cut out the coupon so you won't forget.

Avoid Harmful Grit
Pepsodent curdles the film and removes it without harmful scouring. Its polishing agent is far softer than enamel. Never use a film comb which contains harsh grit.

MANSON MAY OPEN BIG LABOR CONGRESS

The Hon. A. M. Manson, Attorney-General and Minister of Labor, will likely open the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress in Vancouver next September, which will be attended by 500 to 600 delegates from labor organizations in all parts of Canada.

Formal invitation to perform this function was extended to Mr. Manson at the Parliament Buildings to-day by J. T. Brookes and P. R. Bengough, of Vancouver.

A speaker, engaged to lecture in a small town, arrived in the afternoon. The place seemed poorly billed. He thought he would find out if the people knew anything at all about what was in store for them, so he entered a grocery's shop.

"Good afternoon," he said to the man behind the counter. "Any entertainment here to-night to help a stranger like myself?"

The shopkeeper straightened up, wiped his hands on his apron, and said: "I expect there's going to be a lecture. I've seen selling eggs all day."—T.H. Bitts.

MR. CHIRP AND MR. HOP—Part I.

Mr. Chirp and Mr. Hop met one sunny morning by the side of a dusty country road.

They were cousins, though one was a little cricket and the other a big grasshopper. Their dispositions weren't the least bit the same and they did not dress alike, either. Chirp was always cheerful and tried to make others so, but his cousin Hop was inclined to be quarrelsome.

Hop seemed to enjoy making himself feel unpleasant as well as others and instead of picking out the pleasant things to talk about, that happened to him or his friends, Hop always twisted the matter to suit himself and made things look black instead of sunny.

"Good morning, cousin Hop," said Chirp cheerily, although he had been singing nearly all night.

"Morning," answered Hop, "I don't see much good about it. Cold and wet! Makes my legs stiff."

"But the sun will soon be out and warm and bright and dry things, cousin," replied Chirp.

"Hug," answered Hop harshly, "wait! That's it! Why should I have to wait? It ought to be shining now. I've got about."

"Suppose you have been singing your silly song all night long," he twitted Chirp, trying to see if he could not make his cousin seem less cheerful.

"Yes," replied Chirp good naturedly, "trying to make people happy. You know most folks like my song, and I have heard that there is a story named for me called 'Cricket on the Heath'."

"Waiting for me time sitting on folks' hearths singing silly songs," Chirp heard Hop answered. "You will get stepped on some day and that will be the end of you."

"Oh, no, I won't," said Chirp cheerfully. "Folks are always careful not to harm me. They like to have me around. Why, only last night I had the nicest sort of time singing to a young couple who were envying their neighbor."

"I sang and sang until they forgot to look across the street at the big handsome house of their rich neighbor," Hark said the young wife suddenly there is our cricket again."

"Pretty soon they had forgotten to be envious and were sitting by the fire listening to my song. I told them how happy they ought to be because they were young and loved each other and the first thing I knew they were talking and laughing as happy as two loving people should be."

"Well, goodness me!" exclaimed Hop "if that isn't the most senseless talk I ever listened to. Spending your time singing to make folks happy! Now when I do anything for folks I do something that shows up in the world—just listen to some of the things I do."

You will be leaving shortly for your summer home. Don't go without giving us your change of address, as we can deliver the Times to you by mail. The paper is only 35¢ a year. Prompt attention will be given.

Among those who greeted Sir Arthur Conan Doyle yesterday on his arrival from Vancouver was W. B. Grant, who knew the distinguished author in the South African War.

Sir Arthur, in 1900, was senior physician of the Langman field hospital, and Mr. Grant was dispenser. They were naturally closely associated at that time, and Sir Arthur was delighted to see him again. The author and Mr. Grant went for a drive here, and the creator of Sherlock Holmes asked a number of questions about the city and environs. He was greatly interested in the natural resources of the island.

Sir Arthur left for Vancouver immediately after the conclusion of his lecture.

SOMETHING COMING TO HIM.

Two little boys were playing one Spring day when Johnnie said to Willie: "Let's play that you are a pig and I am a bull, you get down and wallow in the mud, and I will sit upon the fence and yell."

Willie thought that would be a good game, so he wallowed about in the mud for a while, then thinking he would like a change, he said: "Now you be the pig and wallow in the mud and I will sit upon the fence and yell."

"Oh, no," said Johnnie, "you will have time enough to yell when your mother sees your clothes."

As the bridegroom says: "June brides, we who are about to play second fiddle, salute you."

Arrangements for re-modeling Victoria's land and improvement assessment were made at a meeting of the City Council Court of Revision yesterday.

The Court of Revision was presided over by Alderman A. E. Todd yesterday. City Assessor William Scowcroft was instructed to proceed with his present work on the assessment, making what changes he considers necessary. The assessment roll as prepared by him will be laid before the Court again September 1 and then revised to meet the Court's wishes.

It had been planned to commence some preliminary work on the new assessment earlier but the Court members agreed yesterday that it would be impossible to make any progress until Mr. Scowcroft had completed his work at the end of September.

Members of the Court stated at yesterday's meeting that they did not expect to receive many assessment protests from ratepayers before the next roll is filed. Before the last roll was completed numerous protests were filed and all had to be given consideration.

The Court yesterday arranged for extra assistance in the Assessor's Department to speed up work on the new roll. Appropriations for this work have been spent but the necessary funds will be provided out of miscellaneous appropriations.

Two Divisions of Century.

The history of Europe, then, from 1815 to 1848, was generally speaking, a struggle to the history of Europe from 1789 to 1814. There were no really new motifs in the composition. The main trouble was still the struggle, though often a blind and directed struggle, of the interests of ordinary men against the great power which cramped and oppressed the life of mankind.

After 1848, from 1848 to 1914, though the readjustment of the map of Europe and a new Germany, there began a fresh phase in the process of mental and political adaptation to the new knowledge and the new material which were the result of the scientific and industrial revolutions.

In the next three sections we will consider the origin and quality of these revolutions. They laid the foundations upon which we have our political thought to-day, but for a long time they had no very great effect upon contemporary politics. Contemporary politics continued to run on in the old lines, but with a steady diminishing support in the intellectual convictions and consciences of men.

We have already described the way in which the strong intellectual process undermined the system of Grand Monarchy in France before 1789. A similar undermining process was going on throughout Europe during the Great Power period of 1815-1914. Foundational doubts of the system of government and of the liberties of many forms of property in the economic system spread throughout the social body.

Then came the greatest and most disastrous war in history, so that it is still impossible to estimate the power and range of the accumulated new ideas of those sixty-six years. We have been through a greater catastrophe even than the Napoleonic catastrophe, and we are in a slack-water period, corresponding to the period of 1815-20. Our 1830 and our 1848 are still to come and show us where we stand.

To-morrow—Beginnings of Socialism.

We have told of the first series of liberal storms in Europe in and about the year 1830; in Britain in 1832; the reform bill; great standing the franchise and restoring some-ness of the conflict of their interests with those of the rich men. Differences of education and tradition between the various older social elements which were in process of being fused into the new class of the expropriated, seemed for a time to contradict this sweeping generalization; the traditions of the professions, the small employers, the farmer peasant and the like were all different from one another and from the various craftsman traditions of the workers, but with the spread of education and the cheapening of literature this "Marxian" generalization becomes more and more acceptable.

These classes, who were linked at first by nothing but a common impoverishment, were and are being reduced and raised to the same standard of life, forced to read the same books and share the same inconveniences.

A sense of solidarity between all sorts of poor and propertyless men, as against the profit-amassing and wealth-concentrating class, is growing more and more evident in our world.

Old differences fade away, the difference between craftsman and open-air worker, between black coat and overall, between poor clergyman and elementary schoolmaster, between policeman and bus driver. They must all buy the same cheap furnishings and live in similar cheap houses; their sons and daughters will all mingle and marry; success at the upper levels becomes more and more hopeless for the rank and file.

Marx, who did not so much advocate the class war, the war of the proletariat against the bourgeoisie, as foretell it, is being more and more justified by events.

Ideas That Grew.

To trace any broad outlines in the fermentation of ideas that were going on during the mechanical and industrial revolution of the nineteenth century is a very difficult task. But we must attempt it if we are to link what has gone before in this history with the condition of our world to-day.

It will be convenient to distinguish two main periods in the hundred years between 1814 and 1914. First came the period 1814-48, in which there was a very considerable amount of liberal thinking and writing in limited circles, but during which there were no great changes or development of thought in the general mass of the people. Throughout this period the world's affairs were living, capital, they were going on in accordance with the leading ideas of the revolution and the counter-revolution. The dominant liberal ideas were freedom, the conservative ideas were monarchy, organized religion, social privilege and obedience.

Until 1848 the spirit of the Holy Alliance, the spirit of Metternich, struggled to prevent a revival of the European revolution that Napoleon had betrayed and set back. In America, both North and South, on the other hand, the revolution had triumphed and nineteenth-century liberalism ruled unchallenged. Britain was an uneasy country, ever quieting the system of Grand Monarchy in France before 1789. A similar undermining process was going on throughout Europe during the Great Power period of 1815-1914. Foundational doubts of the system of government and of the liberties of many forms of property in the economic system spread throughout the social body.

Then came the greatest and most disastrous war in history, so that it is still impossible to estimate the power and range of the accumulated new ideas of those sixty-six years. We have been through a greater catastrophe even than the Napoleonic catastrophe, and we are in a slack-water period, corresponding to the period of 1815-20. Our 1830 and our 1848 are still to come and show us where we stand.

The assessment roll as prepared by him will be laid before the Court again September 1 and then revised to meet the Court's wishes.

It had been planned to commence some preliminary work on the new assessment earlier but the Court members agreed yesterday that it would be impossible to make any progress until Mr. Scowcroft had completed his work at the end of September.

Members of the Court stated at yesterday's meeting that they did not expect to receive many assessment protests from ratepayers before the next roll is filed. Before the last roll was completed numerous protests were filed and all had to be given consideration.

The Court yesterday arranged for extra assistance in the Assessor's Department to speed up work on the new roll. Appropriations for this work have been spent but the necessary funds will be provided out of miscellaneous appropriations.

Two Divisions of Century.

The history of Europe, then, from 1815 to 1848, was generally speaking, a struggle to the history of Europe from 1789 to 1814. There were no really new motifs in the composition. The main trouble was still the struggle, though often a blind and directed struggle, of the interests of ordinary men against the great power which cramped and oppressed the life of mankind.

After 1848, from 1848 to 1914, though the readjustment of the map of Europe and a new Germany, there began a fresh phase in the process of mental and political adaptation to the new knowledge and the new material which were the result of the scientific and industrial revolutions.

In the next three sections we will consider the origin and quality of these revolutions. They laid the foundations upon which we have our political thought to-day, but for a long time they had no very great effect upon contemporary politics. Contemporary politics continued to run on in the old lines, but with a steady diminishing support in the intellectual convictions and consciences of men.

We have already described the way in which the strong intellectual process undermined the system of Grand Monarchy in France before 1789. A similar undermining process was going on throughout Europe during the Great Power period of 1815-1914. Foundational doubts of the system of government and of the liberties of many forms of property in the economic system spread throughout the social body.

Then came the greatest and most disastrous war in history, so that it is still impossible to estimate the power and range of the accumulated new ideas of those sixty-six years. We have been through a greater catastrophe even than the Napoleonic catastrophe, and we are in a slack-water period, corresponding to the period of 1815-20. Our 1830 and our 1848 are still to come and show us where we stand.

To-morrow—Beginnings of Socialism.

We have told of the first series of liberal storms in Europe in and about the year 1830; in Britain in 1832; the reform bill; great standing the franchise and restoring some-

ness of the conflict of their interests with those of the rich men. Differences of education and tradition between the various older social elements which were in process of being fused into the new class of the expropriated, seemed for a time to contradict this sweeping generalization; the traditions of the professions, the small employers, the farmer peasant and the like were all different from one another and from the various craftsman traditions of the workers, but with the spread of education and the cheapening of literature this "Marxian" generalization becomes more and more acceptable.

These classes, who were linked at first by nothing but a common impoverishment, were and are being reduced and raised to the same standard of life, forced to read the same books and share the same inconveniences.

A sense of solidarity between all sorts of poor and propertyless men, as against the profit-amassing and wealth-concentrating class, is growing more and more evident in our world.

Old differences fade away, the difference between craftsman and open-air worker, between black coat and overall, between poor clergyman and elementary schoolmaster, between policeman and bus driver. They must all buy the same cheap furnishings and live in similar cheap houses; their sons and daughters will all mingle and marry; success at the upper levels becomes more and more hopeless for the rank and file.

Marx, who did not so much advocate the class war, the war of the proletariat against the bourgeoisie, as foretell it, is being more and more justified by events.

Ideas That Grew.

To trace any broad outlines in the fermentation of ideas that were going on during the mechanical and industrial revolution of the nineteenth century is a very difficult task. But we must attempt it if we are to link what has gone before in this history with the condition of our world to-day.

It will be convenient to distinguish two main periods in the hundred years between 1814 and 1914. First came the period 1814-48, in which there was a very considerable amount of liberal thinking and writing in limited circles, but during which there were no great changes or development of thought in the general mass of the people. Throughout this period the world's affairs were living, capital, they were going on in accordance with the leading ideas of the revolution and the counter-revolution. The dominant liberal ideas were freedom, the conservative ideas were monarchy, organized religion, social privilege and obedience.

Until 1848 the spirit of the Holy Alliance, the spirit of Metternich, struggled to prevent a revival of the European revolution that Napoleon had betrayed and set back. In America, both North and South, on the other hand, the revolution had triumphed and nineteenth-century liberalism ruled unchallenged. Britain was an uneasy country, ever quieting the system of Grand Monarchy in France before 1789. A similar undermining process was going on throughout Europe during the Great Power period of 1815-1914. Foundational doubts of the system of government and of the liberties of many forms of property in the economic system spread throughout the social body.

Then came the greatest and most disastrous war in history, so that it is still impossible to estimate the power and range of the accumulated new ideas of those sixty-six years. We have been through a greater catastrophe even than the Napoleonic catastrophe, and we are in a slack-water period, corresponding to the period of 1815-20. Our 1830 and our 1848 are still to come and show us where we stand.

SOMETHING COMING TO HIM.

Two little boys were playing one Spring day when Johnnie said to Willie: "Let's play that you are a pig and I am a bull, you get down and wallow in the mud, and I will sit upon the fence and yell."

Willie thought that would be a good game, so he wallowed about in the mud for a while, then thinking he would like a change, he said: "Now you be the pig and wallow in the mud and I will sit upon the fence and yell."

"Oh, no," said Johnnie, "you will have time enough to yell when your mother sees your clothes."

PROBLEM TO MEET DEMAND OF PIANOS

James H. Fletcher Tells of Big Dealers' Convention at Chicago

Victoria and British Columbia generally will be the first to share in the wave of prosperity enveloping the United States, call for the opinion of James H. Fletcher, of Fletcher Brothers, who returned Wednesday from Chicago, where he attended the Piano Manufacturers' and Music Dealers' Convention held during the week June 3 to June 8.

Mr. Fletcher visited Winnipeg, Calgary and other Canadian centres on his way back to Victoria. "I am firmly of the opinion that Victoria is in as good a position as any other Canadian city and the prosperity that is being experienced on the other side is beginning to be felt here."

Bright Outlook. "I believe the outlook is better in British Columbia than in any other part of Canada, and with her lumber and mining industries I feel assured that British Columbia will attain greater prosperity than any other province of the Dominion."

"All eyes are turned on this coast as the shipping point for prairie grain, and the general opinion seems to be that British Columbia is destined to become a wonderful province and Vancouver a great city."

"It is good to be back in Victoria again after experiencing several days in Chicago and St. Paul when the temperature reached 93 degrees in the shade," Mr. Fletcher added.

Speaking of the convention in Chicago Mr. Fletcher stated that there were 5,000 delegates representing every branch of the industry on the American continent, including most of the leading Canadian manufacturers and dealers.

"One was struck," said Mr. Fletcher, "with the apparent prosperity of the portion of the United States. The problem that faces the phonograph and piano manufacturers is meeting the demand. There is an unprecedented demand for musical instruments which it is impossible to meet and the demand is chiefly for high class articles, especially miniature baby grand pianos and reproducing pianos."

Prosperity. "One man at a banquet I attended offered to write a check for $500,000 for immediate delivery of all or any part of pianos to that value."

This condition, Mr. Fletcher pointed out, was part of the general prosperity. There was a big building boom in Chicago and New York and a scarcity of labor. Prices and wages were alike high. Bricklayers and plasterers were receiving as high as sixteen and eighteen dollars a day, he said.

The atmosphere of prosperity was reflected in the number of high priced cars. In Michigan Avenue there was a steady procession of cars three abreast on both sides of the road and the expensive cars were in the majority. Mr. Fletcher expressed the sincere hope that this condition would be reflected in Canada in the near future.

EXCURSION PLANNED FOR SATURDAY NEXT

SS. Princess Royal Will Leave Port at 8, Returning 11.30 p. m.

An evening cruise, or as it is generally known, a moonlight excursion, will be held on Saturday next. The Women's Auxiliary to the Victoria Post of the Canadian Legion is making arrangements for this affair. Up to the present time the plans have proved entirely satisfactory, and it is hoped that the excursion will be a success in every way.

It will be the first affair of its kind to take place the season and everything that will add to the enjoyment of those who are going to take advantage of this offer and enjoy a splendid evening trip over the waters of the gulf, has been provided. Dancing will be a chief feature of the evening, and James Miller, bandmaster of the 16th Canadian Scottish Regiment, has charge of arrangements for the music. The concert party is being arranged by Ernie Impett, one of the members of which is George Potter, a man who is well-known for his ability in vocal performances. His is one of the finest male voices in the city. There will be other singers included on the programme, but these have not yet been secured for the affair.

The Princess Royal will leave her berth at 8 o'clock, advanced time, and will arrive in port again at 11.30. This will give the passengers an opportunity to catch the last street cars to the different parts of the city.

INTERESTING FACTS PREPARED ON ISLAND

Publicity Bureau Believes Residents Should Know Their Homeland Better

The following interesting list of facts about Vancouver Island and Victoria have been prepared by the Victoria and Island Development Association (with the object of acquainting residents here with their Island home.) These lists which appear once a week in this publication, are expected to be of interest to all loyal Islanders.

1. The highest mountain peak found thus far on Vancouver Island is Victoria Peak, 7,434 feet. It was previously supposed that Mount Arrowsmith was the highest mountain on the Island, but it is only 5,976 feet. There are many other peaks in the central portions of the country that have never been scaled, much less measured.

2. Orden Point breakwater is 2,530 feet long and cost $2,200,000 to build.

3. The Pacific Salvage Company's vessel, Algerine, has a steaming range of 10,000 miles. This vessel is skippered by J. M. Hewison, said to be one of the most experienced and reliable men for the work he undertakes, who sails on the Pacific Coast. The Algerine has done a great deal of good work at different times, salvaging vessels which have been given up by other concerns as total wrecks.

4. Despite the recent heavy municipal expenditure Victoria is ranked as one of the strongest cities in a financial way in Canada.

5. In 1913 37,977 crates of strawberries were grown near Victoria; this year Victoria is shipping from outlying districts such as Saanich and Gordon Head, no less than 50,000 crates to the prairies alone.

6. Fort Camosun, Victoria, was established 1842. This city is just about eighty years old.

7. Seven out of every ten tourists visit Butchart's Gardens.

8. All Victoria golf clubs are open to tourists. These clubs boast some of the finest courses in Canada.

9. Victoria's area is 4,640 acres, or 7½ square miles.
